Around And About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

The recent death of P. S. Eustis, of San Diego, for many years general passenger agent for the "Burlington" road with headquarters in Chicago, recalls his meticulous insistence for courtesy. It was a fetish in his department. And he appreciated a reciprocity on the part of those with whom he came in contact. It was his custom to visit occasionally the cities along the line, and to contact business men. There was one particular office where he always received prompt attention. It was so conspicuously unvarying both in promptness and inquiry that he complimented the proprietor on having such an attentive force. Which brings to mind that there is in many places of business today a laxity and indifference on the part of employees in approaching promptly and courteously the people seeking information, or wishing to transact business.

Bogus $20 bills are said to be floating around. Say, most of us have been without a $20 bill for so long that we would almost be willing to take a chance with one just to see how it looks.

Noticed several county editors in town Monday. Guess they had no trouble. I received no call for help. Orange county editors, so far as I can recollect, have been able to take care of themselves. Their editorial pages indicate they do a lot of thinking of their own.

Some of our good citizens are offering exhibits for the Bowers memorial museum. I've got one I would like to put in as soon as he gets back to town.

Hunter Leach found a good Samaritan under the most unusual circumstances. He went to Tucson, Arizona, to bring back to Santa Ana a man who had passed fictitious checks. The law wanted him. En route home Hunter falls victim to a diabetic attack, and sinks into an utterly helpless condition, which removes official surveillance. All the prisoner has to do is to tell Hunter good-bye, or he doesn't even have to be that polite. Instead he takes the unusual role of nurse and gets aid for the sick officer. Talk about honor among thieves? And extenuating circumstances? Here's a guy who has within his system the elements of rehabilitation.

A fossilized crab, believed to be 50,000,000 years old, was recently unearthed during excavation for a London subway. Say, I unearth 'em almost every day. The only difference is in the age.

Senor Curran is also on the surprise list. He sells ice cream confections via personally propelled wagon delivery. Curran confides that he did not expect to be selling ice cream cones the 6th of December. Says his season usually gets the flag latter part of October. Warm weather has extended the selling season much later than is customary. He started out in the bright sunlight at 10:30 this a. m. to carry congealed moisture to the kiddies who can hear the tink of the bell much farther away than "mom" or "pop."

And then there was the fellow who knew more about the Scripture than I do who told me there was something in it some place (and that's how much he knew) that the "effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." He can find it in James V:16, if that is any help to him. But it remained for Milt Johnson to pull the faux pas that I launch the appeal for rain.

It may have been a hang-over or a case of indigestion. Be that as it may, a service club member said he was filled to overflowing with much of the Polyanna material being served to the luncheon organizations. It was always a relief to him when the program took on an informal type. The routine of the day always brought to him an over-plus of the serious and he preferred what some might call the lighter form. This deep-thinking stuff, much of it not more than one man's opinion, was just too much apple sauce to him.

I have no patience with or sympathy for the man who cherishes the "get even" spirit, and I will detect a flickering smile chase itself across the physiognomy of an occasional Californian when he

British To Defend Hongkong

Japs Warn Alien Residents Out Of Besieged Nanking

LONDON. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today the government "will defend British possessions wherever they may be" in answering a point blank question about Hongkong in the Far East. Eden declined to make a statement on the position or composition of Japanese forces near Hongkong, British island off Canton, China. The questioner was Geoffrey Mander, opposition liberal.

GROWERS TO SEEK BEAN PRICE RAISE

Flaherty Will Press Campaign

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange county farm bureau, was named secretary of a national committee of bean growers' representatives to press a national campaign to control prices and increase consumption of this year's bumper bean crop at a conference in Chicago early this month, it was learned here today.

In attempting to counteract the low prices and 3,300,000-bag surplus this year, representatives at the national conference voted to ask the federal administration to purchase beans for relief purposes on a pro rata basis, and favored a national selling campaign through cooperation of retail independent and chain grocers.

Vernon Heil, an Orange county representative at the conference, has returned and will present a report tomorrow night at the Garden Grove farm center meeting in the women's civic clubhouse at 7:30 p. m.

REBEL BOMBERS STRIKE AGAIN

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier. (AP)—A squadron of Spanish insurgent warplanes today attacked Barcelona even as buildings wrecked in yesterday's air raid were being searched for bodies.

A government communique said the planes slipped over the city in a heavy fog, but were driven off by government pursuit planes and anti-aircraft guns.

They were reported to have dropped only a few bombs this time on an outlying section of the city.

Insurgents announced that the Duchess of Guise, wife of the pretender to the French throne, had arrived in Sevilla to visit the Spanish branch of the Orleans family.

BIKE LICENSES BEING ISSUED

Issuing of bicycle licenses was under way at Santa Ana police station today, following receipt of several hundred license tags yesterday.

All bicycles operated within the city limits must have licenses by Feb. 1, Detective Lieut. C. W. Wolford announced. Licenses cost 50 cents each.

The license plan was inaugurated by Santa Ana police in an attempt to cut down thefts, and to facilitate recovery of identification of lost or stolen vehicles. A city-wide checkup will be made in February, and owners of unlicensed bicycles will be prosecuted, Wolford said.

FIGHT FOR LAW
WASHINGTON. (AP)—Representative Frank A. Buck of Vacaville, Calif., said today community property states would be "lucky" to defeat a treasury proposal to compel husbands and wives to turn their income for federal tax purposes. Buck is a member of the house ways and means subcommittee which he said was evenly divided on the measure.

SHANGHAI Thursday. (AP)—The possibility that China might form a new government without Premier Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek and make peace with Japan, was advanced by authoritative quarters here today.

LONDON. DEADHEAT DONS TIED AGAIN

You can call them the "Deadheat Dons" if this keeps up. Santa Ana Junior college teams just seem to "hang at the finish" as the turf experts say. First it was the football team which had to accept a co-championship and now the debating team has to be satisfied with a tie with Fullerton in the first round of tournament debating in the Eastern conference forensics race at San Bernardino yesterday.

The Dons were represented in the championship division of the tournament by two teams, one composed of Ernest Barrett and Jack Hutton, and another by Miss Christine Burbank and James Bartlett. Practice tilts were also held during the day. Santa Ana being represented by Dick Geeting and Isamu Masuda.

All teams entering the conference meet were called upon to debate both sides of the league question. "Resolved: That the National Labor Relations Board be empowered to enforce arbitration of all industrial disputes."

In a special series of debates following the championship round, the Don team of Barrett and Hutton defeated San Bernardino, and Fullerton in turn to Fullerton.

The next tournament is scheduled for February, probably at Pomona. A certificate of appreciation to Santa Ana squad will be called upon to argue the same question.

Market Looks Slightly Better

NEW YORK. (AP)—Buying support for rails and steels aided other groups in the stock market today and leading shares pushed up fractions to 2 points or more.

The rally came belatedly after a mixed opening, but gained force as the afternoon wore on. Fairly large blocks were snapped up as buyers sought "oversold" issues.

An encouraging report that retail sales in the New York metropolitan district were not falling as short of last year's figures had been expected helped merchandising shares.

Anaheim Meat Firm Dissolves

Assets of the Southern Meat company, of Anaheim, were in the hands today of the Transcontinental corporation, according to papers filed in the county clerk's office.

A certificate of dissolution of the corporation was filed by C. S. Chapman, Irvin C. Chapman and Frieda Freda, directors of the firm.

Math Expert

ROBERTA BERRY

Distinction of being the only woman student taking advanced calculus and majoring in mathematics is claimed this year by Roberta Berry, sophomore.

Included in her math course aside from integral calculus are chemistry, physics and a class in mechanical drawing.

"Mathematics must prove interesting to the one studying it, or else best results cannot be expected," she indicated.

The prevailing idea that boys are better mathematicians than girls is disproven. It is only that this field attracts more boys, which does not mean necessarily that they are able to understand math better.

This has proven true, according to Miss Mabel G. Whiting, registrar and math instructor. Women students in her classes have always been among the best too.

Records of past graduates in the last few years reveal that three women who were in her class became teachers of mathematics.

However, Miss Berry is the first woman student to continue with second-year calculus since 1929.

8000 SLAIN IN BORDER WAR

PORT AU-PRINCE, Haiti. (AP)—President Stenio Vincent, in an exclusive interview at the Haitian palace today, estimated that 8000 Haitians have been slain on Dominican soil since October.

He declared these slayings were "definitely and positively not a border incident, but the assassination of Haitians on Dominican soil far beyond the Haitian-Dominican border."

It was the first time the Haitian president had discussed the Haitian-Dominican trouble with a representative of the foreign press and the first time the official Haitian version has been made public.

President Vincent asserted that the border question which once existed had been settled, largely at the initiative of the Haitian government, two years ago when a treaty was signed by the two nations. He said there had been no border question since then.

NEW CHURCH HEAD

BOSTON. (AP)—Rev. Robert Cummins, pastor of Troop Memorial church of Pasadena, Calif., has been elected general superintendent of Universalist churches, trustees announced today.

Kids Invited To Xmas Show

Fun and a chance to help hundreds of unfortunate kids to a Merry Christmas—all at the same time.

Both are being offered to the children of Santa Ana by the Parent-Teacher association and The Journal next Saturday.

The occasion is the special youngsters' Christmas show at the Broadway theater. Every kid in town is invited and it's the easiest kind of a show to go to.

All you have to do is bring along a last year's toy, or a discarded article of clothing, still serviceable, or an unperishable article of food, such as canned goods.

Your ticket of admission will be your present to the kids of Santa Ana who might not have an honest-to-goodness jolly Christmas without your help.

But if you think this show is just a chance to give a present for Christmas, you're mistaken. It's

WEST FAILS TO PUSH SUIT FOR OUSTER

Not Present at Grand Jury Session

Supervisor N. E. West, center of the most violent flareup in county politics in many months did not appear this morning, as the county grand jury opened its weekly huddle, to make good on his threat to demand ouster action against four county officials if they failed to turn in their fees by Dec. 5.

The fiery little Laguna supervisor, spokesman for the board in battling Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton's ruling that officials' fees cannot be given back to them in part after being confiscated by the county, just waited.

The board took no action toward filing suit to collect fees assertedly held by Sheriff Logan Jackson. The board also took no action on a proposal by Treasurer T. E. Stephens for determining ownership of state inheritance tax fees.

The proposal was made last week. The board also was in no hurry for an opinion it demanded of Menton, considering next week time enough, it is said. Menton has asked for a written opinion on points he already had ruled on, holding several sections of the supervisors' ordinance invalid.

Grand jury members reportedly were awaiting a move from West, since he made his first maneuver when he threatened to go before them if fees were not turned in. The inquisitors have considered investigating the courthouse ruckus, but have begun no investigation as yet.

CROSSED WIRES CAUSE ARREST

The simple operation of short-circuiting an ignition wire assertedly enabled two youths to steal a car from an Ontario garage last night, but the same operation led to their capture on Placentia avenue near Olive an hour later.

The shorted wire burned out the ignition and halted a car being driven by Enoch Mott, 22, Ontario, Canada. On questioning by deputy sheriffs who stopped to render aid, Mott and a companion, Paul Trotter, 20, Detroit, Mich., assertedly admitted stealing the car from Walter Donnell Riley's garage at 403 West F street, Ontario, Calif.

Reportedly twice deported to Canada, Mott was charged with being in the country illegally and grand theft, while his companion, who also gave the name of Paul Dele, was booked on a grand theft charge.

U. S. PLANE FORCE BEST

LONDON. (AP)—The 1937 edition of Jane's famous "All the World's Aircraft" out today, ranked the United States' air force as one of the largest and "possibly the most efficiently equipped in the world."

The authoritative survey of the international aerial rearmament race, however, credited Germany's fighting planes with being the equal of both the United States and Great Britain in power and performance but not in numbers.

Jane's editor, C. G. Grey, said France had "fallen sadly behind" in the performance of its planes while increasing the size of its aerial fleet.

In reference to the successful performances attributed to "Russian airplanes in support of the Red (Madrid) government in Spain," Grey said flatly:

"Those airplanes definitely have been of American design and most likely of American construction."

U. S. Girl Hurt In Paris Attack

PARIS. (AP)—Dorothy Mildred Bourke, 23, of Minneapolis, was found in her apartment today unconscious and covered with wounds.

The building superintendent forced her door after having missed her since Sunday.

Doctors at the American hospital, where she was taken, said a preliminary investigation indicated her condition was serious.

Police said she was unable to tell them what had occurred.

Sues Airline for Explorer's Death

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Suit for $502,539 damages for the death of her husband, Martin Johnson, noted explorer, was on file today in superior court by Mrs. O. Johnson against Western Air Express and the United Airports company of California.

Wolf at the Door With Manhattan for Mother

Orange city council found the Wolf at their door last night—and hastily barricaded it.

The visitor was "Mr. Wolf of Nebraska." He wanted to establish a cocktail lounge in what is perhaps the driest community in Southern California.

Nobody at city hall knew Mr. Wolf's identity today, because Chief of Police Franzen threw away a piece of paper bearing proper initials and address. But Mr. Wolf, it seems, came to Orange from Nebraska, with the intention of supplying the city with a bar to which he told the council, "you could bring your own mother."

Council was thrown into something like consternation at Mr. Wolf's proposal. The city fathers seemed uncertain whether the mothers wanted to be brought to such a place.

"I'm afraid you'll find the town against you," warned Mayor H. C. Boise. Another councilman wanted a peek at Mr. Wolf's references. Still another wondered if the lounge could be closed, once it was opened.

None of them wanted to open the doors to the Wolf.

The matter was deferred after a half-hour debate, until the council "could talk it over privately." A decision probably will be handed down at the next gathering of the city fathers.

HIT-RUNNER INJURES BOY

A widespread search was launched today for the driver of a gray sedan that struck and injured Willie Vega, nine-year-old Westminster child, then sped on towards Long Beach last night.

The boy was walking across Westminster boulevard in front of the postoffice when the hit-run driver struck him. Taken to Orange county hospital, Vega was treated for severe bruises.

Two young Fullerton women were injured in another accident last night when cars driven by Frances Yorstom, 21, Wilshire and Berkeley streets, and Jeffery Niles Schroder, 33, 400 South Spadina street, collided at Euclid and Highland avenues two miles west of Fullerton. Miss Yorstom and Mrs. Opal Schroder, 30, were injured, not seriously.

IRVINE GETS AAA CHECK

Payment of $12,789 to the Irvine company for participation in the 1936 agricultural adjustment program was announced in Washington today by the agriculture department.

The Irvine check was one of 40 payments of $10,000 or more made by the federal government since Aug. 16 for diversion of land from soil-depleting to soil-conserving crops and for observing soil building practices.

Auto Sales Set New U. S. Mark

NEW YORK. (AP)—Sales record of General Motors corporation came tumbling today as the automobile giant reported new high in world sales to dealers for November and the first 11 months of the year.

World dealer sales in November were 195,135 units, compared with 166,939 in October.

HOME LACK BLAMED ON BOARD

Juvenile Department Needs Funds

Blame for "insufficient funds for proper maintenance" of the Orange county juvenile home was placed squarely on the shoulders of the board of supervisors by Presiding Superior Judge H. G. Ames in a talk before the Citizens forum in the Unitarian church last night.

Citing lack of sufficient funds, rather than improper supervision, as the main trouble with the juvenile home, Judge Ames' charge followed action of the supervisors yesterday blocking a request for two additional employees at the home.

"The juvenile home should not be just a detention home, but it should attempt to correct the things that cause delinquency," Judge Ames declared.

Citing main causes of delinquency, Judge Ames blasted the frequently expressed theory that liquor is a principal cause by declaring that liquor has contributed only a few cases to Orange county's annual delinquent rolls.

Earlier in the day Supervisor N. E. West had started another idea going "round at a meeting of the supervisors, when he suggested that "juvenile delinquents might better be taken care of in an outdoor camp than in a home."

Meanwhile West and Supervisor Steele Finley had blocked the recommendation of the county probation committee that two new employees be added to the juvenile home staff, and Supervisor John Mitchell charged there was "something wrong" at the home.

"NOT SATISFIED"

Mitchell, juvenile home committee member on the board, said he was "not satisfied" with the way the home was run, but would like to cooperate with the committee in its request for additional help to remove the pressure from the present staff. He added that Supt. Fred Germany "seemed to be away a good deal of the time."

Probation committee members have insisted additional help was imperative, since employees at the home have only one day off a week and must be there constantly the rest of the time.

Additional help would cost $65 a month, plus board and room, per employee.

Judge Ames was introduced at the forum last night by Don Cook, next week's forum speaker.

The judge said in 11 years on the bench he has never had a juvenile case where the boy or girl appeared before him again in an adult criminal case.

Douglas Sells 41 Liners Outside U. S.

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—Douglas Aircraft company delivered to commercial airlines outside the United States 41 liners valued at $4,500,000 during 1937, officials of the plant announced today.

Fourteen went to Holland, six to Asia, nine to South America, four to Australia; three to Sweden, three to Czechoslovakia and two for an European airline.

Officials predicted the total production of the two Douglas plants for 1937 would run approximately $21,000,000 in volume for the year.

Seek Bookie Law For L. A. County

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A committee of the Los Angeles County Peace Officers' association had the task today of drawing a model ordinance for incorporation towns of the county to regulate operation of legal betting establishments.

Captain Contreras suggested provisions for a uniform license fee, photographs and fingerprints of all licensees and posting of a bond to guarantee payment of wagers won by patrons.

Stakes Winner On Probation
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Alejandro Vega, ship's mess boy who won a sweepstakes prize of $150,000, slumped in his chair today when a judge, who had heard charges that Vega evaded income taxes of $70,000 said:

"I sentence you to three years in a federal prison."

Vega had to be supported by his attorney. But Federal Judge Robert E. Jenney wasn't through. He added:

"But I place you on five years' probation on condition that you return to Mexico and stay there."

WINTER GRIPS EAST AS NEW COLD WAVE THREATENS FLORIDA

CITRUS AREA AGAIN IN DANGER ZONE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter spread itself along the Atlantic seaboard from Maine to Florida today, bringing snow and icy temperatures to parts of New England and the Middle Atlantic states, and the threat of a fresh cold wave for the South. Northern and central sections of the country, east of the Rockies, also suffered from cold.

Although Florida's two-day cold wave was on the wane, weather bureau observers said another mass of cold air was moving toward Texas and the Southwest, and that a shift would renew the cold and misery in Florida, which already has suffered extensive crop damage.

Eleven inches of snow lay in Buffalo and snow flurries were predicted for New York City. Pennsylvania reported snow, icy roads and drifts.

COLD WAVE MOVES
A cold wave moved southward over the Rocky mountains and great Plains region to Eastern Colorado and Kansas, and eastward to the upper Mississippi valley.

Rain or snow was forecast for the Carolinas, North Georgia, and possibly Northern Mississippi and Alabama by tomorrow.

Buffalo's snowstorm was accompanied by a 47-mile-an-hour wind from Lake Erie. Niagara falls, only 20 miles north, early in the day reported little wind and only a slight snowfall.

Temperatures generally were low in New York state, and many miles of road were blocked or kept open only with difficulty as the wind piled big drifts.

LOW TEMPERATURES

At Paw Paw, Mich., the town's $50,000 municipal power station was tumbled into the Paw Paw river when the swollen stream forced a break in the hydro-electric dam. A melting snowfall of 30 inches had caused the river to rise.

At Casper, Wyo., an official temperature of 26 degrees below zero was recorded early today. It followed a powdery snowfall general over the Northern great plains and Rocky mountain region.

Skies cleared today in that section but the weather bureau said the cold wave would continue at least until tomorrow.

The reading at Casper was the lowest reported in the region by the United States weather bureau. Other lows included: Lewiston, Mont., -20; Newcastle, Wyo., -18; Yellowstone Park, -10; Cheyenne, Wyo., -8; Helena, Mont., -8; Sheridan, Wyo., -7.

reads about the frost damage in Florida. It may be Florida's turn, but I am not rejoicing over their distress. Our own experience is too recent to cause any hilarity, even if we benefit from the damage.

Words of wisdom are few in number. Verbosity usually is not much more than a smoke-screen. Candor is a virtue, too often suppressed for the good of the body politic. That is why I always like to hear Carl Newman say something. He does. Occasionally he throws down the gauntlet to governmental and economic students, which arouses serious thinking. Newman's business connections are of such importance that safe and sane conclusions are essential.

That's why he is invaluable to the businesses of his identification. His reticence is one of the reasons why I mention it. But if you want to get a straight from the shoulder answer, and can take it, ask him.

BRITAIN WARNS JAPAN AGAIN

all foreigners and Chinese non-combatants to evacuate beleaguered Nanking as quickly as possible.

"Hostilities may engulf the city any moment," they said.

Through Suemasa Okamoto, Japanese counsel general at Shanghai, the Japanese requested representatives of foreign powers, including the United States, to inform their respective nationals of the impending struggle in the evacuated Chinese capital.

United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss transmitted the Japanese warning to American diplomatic representatives at Nanking and informed Washington of the development. There were 17 Americans in Nanking.

The Japanese said they considered the former capital "one large fortification" and therefore could not give the Chinese non-combatants and foreigners the assurance of safety in the so-called refuge zone.

Reports through Japanese channels said the Japanese commander would issue an ultimatum demanding surrender of beleaguered Nanking to avoid a heavy toll of life and possible destruction of the city.

The reports declared the ultimatum would ask Chinese General Tang Sheng-Chi, commander of the Nanking garrison, to surrender the city and 300,000 Chinese soldiers.

Japanese columns, Chinese asserted, were repulsed in attempts to storm two Nanking's gates with 1000 casualties.

One Japanese detachment, it was stated, was driven back from Chilian (Unicorn) gate while another failed in an effort to pierce the city's heavy walls at Sunshine gate which leads to the impressive Ming palaces.

A third column, the Chinese advised, was held up at Mulikwan and failed to reach Nanking. Some 75,000 Japanese were gathered about the city, where approximately 200,000 Chinese faced them.

Tater Tasters' Take Tough Task

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Tater tasters of Capitol hill—picked to decide the relative merits of Idaho and Idaho potatoes—wondered today whether they had bitten off more than they could chew.

Rep. Brewster (R., Maine) insisted that the four judges make all-inclusive tests on the rival spuds, "including edibility, savoriness, mealiness, bailability, bakeability and fryability."

Brewster said Rep. White (D., Idaho) "knows Idaho potatoes are not as good for boiling or frying as ours are."

The judges, selected on the basis of geographical impartiality, were invited to sample the potatoes at the house of representatives' restaurant this noon.

Free Toplitzy On Fraud Count

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Bernard Toplitzy, Los Angeles broker, stood acquitted today of charges he gave $7975 in worthless checks to Everett Crosby, brother of Crozier Bing, in a mining stock deal.

Judge A. A. Scott dismissed the charge, saying: "Both Crosby and Toplitzy were guilty of check kiting. It was purely a 50-50 proposition. If Toplitzy were convicted and sent to jail, the same thing should happen to Crosby. The punishment for one should be the punishment for the other."

When Edgar Allan Poe reviewed books, he often included disparaging remarks about the authors' characters.

2ND 'SWAP' MARRIAGE IS REVEALED

CLAREMONT. (AP)—Two Southern California couples, who exchanged wares in a four-month process of divorce and remarriage, had squared today an "eternal triangle."

Ira Ashcroft, 54, wealthy Corona rancher and bank director, is honeymooning with the former Mrs. Louise Voss, 27.

John Voss, 30, school teacher, had wed the former Mrs. Hortense Ashcroft, 50.

With the new Mrs. Ashcroft on the 3000-acre Triangle L ranch are her children, Jimmy Voss, 5, and Virginia Voss, 3.

And with the new Mrs. Voss are the adopted Ashcroft twins, Billy and Rachel, 15.

The Ashcrofts had been married 33 years when he left for Las Vegas, Nev., last July to get a divorce. Mrs. Voss went there on the same mission. As soon as their degrees were granted, they married.

Mrs. F. C. Goepfer Dies at Balboa

A member of one of Orange county's most prominent pioneer families, Mrs. Frances C. Goepfer, died at her home, 813 East Bay avenue, Balboa, yesterday after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Goepfer was born in McMinnville, Ore., and moved to California 70 years ago. She was formerly Frances Russell, and was married in Santa Ana to Leopold Goepfer, well-known local business man, until his death 10 years ago.

She was prominent in fraternal and social circles during her 50 years' residence in Orange county and has been a resident of Balboa for the past 25 years. She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Nellie Hatcher of Balboa; Mrs. brother, Willis Russell of Potomac, Texas; three nephews, H. L. Hatcher of Balboa, Lecliff Ross of Santa Ana, and M. P. Ross of Los Angeles; one niece, Mrs. Mildred Dodge of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be held from the Winbiger mortuary chapel at 2 p. m. tomorrow, followed by private cremation at Fairhaven cemetery. Friends are requested to omit flowers.

Inventors Even Patent Traps to Kill Roaches

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Better mouse traps—and roach traps—enticed the world to beat a path to the door of the Pacific Coast convention of the National Inventors' congress, which opened here today.

The roach trap is the invention of Arnulfo Mora of El Paso, Texas. As he explained, the roach, with a keen sense of smell, is attracted to the alluring bait sprinkled on the rung of a ladder. When the hungry insect reaches the top step—presto! A little gadget knocks him into oblivion.

Then there is the lung-exercising toy invented by Willis J. Bennett of Kansas City. The harder the operator exhales into the device, the harder a mechanical dancer jigs up and down, and back and forth.

Those practical jokers who pull one's handkerchief from the coat pocket meet their Waterloo in a handkerchief simulator devised by James Price Weyman of San Antonio, Texas. What looks like the corner of a handkerchief is really a small piece sewed to the pocket lining.

Should these inventions fail to intrigue, there are: A combination clothes dryer and reading lamp. A hydraulic bath tub to lift the bather in and out of the water. Anti-thefters and anti-switchers to be fastened to the legs and tail of a cow during the milking process. Portable bath houses. And peepless keyholes.

Paw Paw River Paws at Plant; Panics People

PAW PAW, Mich. (AP)—Swollen waters of the Paw Paw river swept through a break in the city's hydro-electric dam today and tumbled the $50,000 municipal power station into the stream. No one was in the small frame structure at the time.

Flood waters spread through sparsely settled country north of this Southwest Michigan community.

Sheriff Warren J. Dodge said pressure of melting snow following a snowfall of nearly 30 inches caused the dam to give way.

Tug Aground on Clemente Island

SAN DIEGO. (AP)—Naval authorities expressed fears today the 1000 ton heavy duty tug Koka ashore on San Clemente island, 60 miles from San Diego, would be a total loss.

The tug, with 44 men and three officers aboard, went aground in a heavy fog yesterday morning. The crew was removed by the destroyer Conyngham.

Naval authorities said the tug was pinned to the bottom by two big rocks projecting into its engine room.

NEVERS' MOTHER DIES

Death Halts Appearance in Traffic School

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Earl C. Hutchinson, 20, was recently fined $10 for speeding and ordered to attend the San Francisco police traffic school. He paid the fine, but did not appear at the school. A letter was sent to his home asking why.

His mother answered: "Earl was killed on the Bayshore highway."

15,000 BEARS TO ROOT IN BOWL

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The largest rooting section in the history of the Rose Bowl—10,000 persons—will represent the University of California and cheer for the Golden Bears when they meet Alabama here New Year's day.

Athletic officials here in charge of the annual intersectional classic said the rooters will fill three sections of the bowl that seats 89,000. By comparison, the approximate attendance at the University of California, Berkeley, is 15,000.

University of Southern California in its last appearance here had approximately 6000 in its rooting section, the largest previous figure. The Bears, however, will be short of their all-time rooter mark set at Palo Alto this year when 11,000 exhorted their team to victory over Stanford in their annual "big game."

Inglewood Chief Gets New Job

INGLEWOOD. (AP)—O. E. Campbell, former chief of police here, was back in the ranks as a motorcycle officer today, the result of a stormy city council meeting last night.

Maver Raymond V. Darby said Campbell's "handling of the murder" of the three Inglewood girls, for which Albert Dyer has been sentenced to die, was one of the "contributing causes" for the council's demand he resign.

Campbell only resigned after a 3 to 2 vote against the action. Capt. Y. E. Muir was appointed chief.

JAIL TERM FOR WOMAN HIKER

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—Mrs. Estelle Ray, 37, walked 28 miles to court to hear herself sentenced to eight months in jail on a burglary conviction, then collapsed in tears.

It was the second long walk for Mrs. Ray from her ranch home. Two weeks ago, when she was three hours late for her arraignment, she explained to the court she had to walk 28 miles from her home because she had no means of transportation.

Yesterday, Judge Charles Allison denied her plea for probation. She admitted she acted as a lookout for her husband while he robbed a Chico grocery. He was sentenced to Folsom prison.

BOARD VOTES LAW OVER PROTESTS

Smoky Orchard Heaters Barred

Over protest from the farm bureau, which usually calls for a saloon in the seats of county government, supervisors yesterday afternoon passed the new anti-smudge ordinance.

Effective in six months, the ordinance will bar smoky or chard heaters, old tires and other smoky substances as methods of keeping frost from oranges.

Thus, by a 4 to 1 vote, the supervisors kicked over the traces. Heretofore, when the farm bureau pulled the strings, the county board jumped. This time it was different. The farm bureau didn't want a smudge ordinance passed, and had said so. The ordinance appeared doomed.

But yesterday Supervisor Harry Riley of Anaheim representative of possibly more farm bureau members than any other board member, made the motion for its passage. Supervisor N. E. West seconded the motion, and Supervisors John Mitchell and Harry Riley voted "yes."

Only Chairman Willard Smith voted against it, and that was on grounds that more time should be given to growers for modernization of their equipment. With present rapid development in heaters, he said, a year or two more ought to be given to the problem solved.

"Second," said Chairman Smith, "I am informed that they do not intend to enforce the ordinance if it is passed. I don't believe in passing ordinances we don't intend to enforce."

Riley, however, said he was sure that the ordinance would and should be enforced, and A. J. Cruikshank, member of a Southern California anti-smudge committee, said he believed it would be enforced in a year or so.

The ordinance is similar to those passed in Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino counties as a bar to the smudge menace, which annually causes thousands of dollars' worth of damage to clothing, household goods and health.

TOUGH XMAS FOR RAMON

Ramon Pena of El Modena, is almost certain there is no Santa Claus.

Ramon and his family returned yesterday from the north, where they had been working. This morning his house is empty.

But that was a minor trouble. In the destroyed portion of his home were Ramon's trousers and in the trousers was a roll of $200 in bills, total earnings of the family.

Joe Sherman and the state forestry fire fighters extinguished the flames, saving about one-half of the home.

Placentia Man Receives Pardon

Sentenced to San Quentin on a forgery charge 15 years ago, Manuel R. Leon, former Placentia resident, was given a clean slate today when Governor Merriam announced he had been granted a full pardon.

Citizenship was restored to Leon, according to a dispatch from Sacramento, although he had faced deportation proceedings brought by the federal immigration service in 1922, following his parole from the state prison.

La Habra Extends Rabies Quarantine

The 90-day quarantine on dogs at La Habra has been extended to the immediate vicinity of the community including La Habra Heights according to Dr. H. H. Sutherland, county health officer.

Approximately 20 dogs, believed to have been infected by a stray animal diseased with rabies, have been killed in the community in an effort to stamp out the disease. No new cases of rabies had been reported to the county health office this morning.

Writing vs. Authoring

By DALE CARNEGIE

Practically everyone thinks that his life would make a great book if it were "written up." And the chances are that every one of them is right! However, it is not the life but the writing of it that might possibly make a great book.

The average man will admit that he would have to give years of time and hard work to become a singer, a DALE CARNEGIE doctor, a lawyer, but he thinks that all he needs to do to become a writer is to write. (The reason most people haven't written that book they have always meant to write is because they haven't had time. Just wait until they get around to it!)

A young woman came to me recently for advice on becoming a writer. I talked with her, not about writing, as she expected me to, but about everything else I could think of. I wanted to learn about her; her tastes, her natural inclinations, and, above all, her stick-to-it-iveness.

Well, I learned that what she most wanted was not so much to write as to be an author. She loved social life; she loved luxury and beautiful clothes. And if one has not an income to provide all this, writing isn't going to do it—at least, not for a long time. I asked her if she thought she could have a story rejected twenty times without losing faith in it, as Jack London did. If she could write seven years without selling a line as Joseph Hergsheimer did. If she were willing to forego the companionship of her friends, or to face their wise smiles. If she would rather write than eat, or, in other words, go hungry in order to express herself in writing.

The replies she gave me made me know that she would not stick to writing very long. I told her that I thought she could become a writer, since one can become what he wills, to some extent, if he wills hard enough and long enough, but that I feared she never would.

F. Newcomb Carlton, chairman of the board of the Western Union Telegraph company, said that success was largely a matter of getting the breaks. He added that there were many men in his organization who could fill his position as well as he could.

The late Julius Rosenwald, head of the Sears, Roebuck company, and great philanthropist, admitted that success was 95 per cent luck, but he emphasized the point that one must be prepared for luck when it knocks at the door.

We all get breaks every month in the year, but we recognize few of them if we aren't prepared. Watch for your break this month. (Copyright, 1937)

XMAS RACKET SEASON ON

Merchants and housewives beware!

The annual Christmas "racket season" is here, Police Chief Floyd W. Howard warned today.

Accompanying the Christmas business rush each year is a wave of attempted forgeries and fictitious check passing, Howard declared, pleading with merchants to double their vigilance and care in cashing checks for customers.

Also riding on the boom trade in Christmas luxuries are an annual parade of "tramp phony checks," who go from door to door selling phony articles. Housewives are most frequent victims of these peddlars, Howard said, citing the sale of phony rugs, drapes and other "expensive imports" as likely to be carried by door-to-door racketeers.

"Watch out for 'bargains' offered by sailors or others who claim their wares have just been smuggled into the country and are being offered at a sacrifice," the chief warned.

The rubber-check wave has not struck yet, he indicated, and no complaints of business rackets have yet been heard, but they are scheduled to begin any time during the next week.

BISHOP HEADS CAL. FARMERS

Holmes Bishop of Orange has been elected president of the Associated Farmers of California for the ensuing year, it was reported today by George A. Graham, secretary of the Orange county division of the organization.

The honor was accorded Bishop at the meeting of the state organization in San Jose Monday of this week. Bishop was one of the prominent ranchers in the state and similar organizations are being started in Washington and Oregon.

Bishop, during the past year, has been vice-president of the state association and president of the Orange county division since it was organized here.

Sure, It's Going to Rain Again--Mebbe

At long last . . . it looks like winter is on its way.

The weather bureau broke a six-month silence today—to predict rain for tomorrow. In the same breath the weather man warned citrus growers of increasingly colder temperatures during the night.

The official prediction for the Southern California area: "Increasing cloudiness today and tomorrow, becoming unsettled, probably with rain Thursday. Cooler temperatures."

Two Arrested On Check Charges

Arrested in Montebello yesterday, Herbert Harris and Earl Bygum were ordered held for Santa Ana police on four counts of issuing checks with intent to defraud clothing store proprietors in this city, it was learned today. The two youths are charged with passing fictitious checks totaling approximately $50 on Santa Ana merchants.

C. OF C. TO ELECT BOARD

The men whose names will appear on the ballot are as follows: Lester Hill of Hill and Carden; David B. Carmichael, Automobile Club of Orange County; William F. Croddy, realtor; George Dunton, Ford dealer; Richard Emison, Santa Ana lumber company; Ray Goodrich, realtor; Harry Hanson, First National bank; Harold Harrison, insurance, and Joseph Hershiser, grocer.

C. H. Hoiles, newspaper man; Allison Horn, realtor; Leonard Hurst, Montgomery Ward; P. A. Jones, J. C. Penney company; Fred Marker, Southern California Gas company; R. C. Raddant, First Federal Savings and Loan; Herbert Rankin, department store; E. B. Sharpley, Southern Pacific railroad; Glenn Tidball, Excelsior creamery; J. B. Tucker, attorney; and James W. Walker, banker.

Ballots for the election will be issued by Secretary Howard Wood shortly after Jan. 1 and may be returned either by mail or personally to the chamber of commerce office.

Curtiss Held On Bunk Charge

William A. Curtiss, 57, and Mrs. Louise Powelson, 56, both of Hollywood, were held to answer to the superior court following their preliminary hearing on grand theft charges before Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison yesterday.

They were charged with a $700 bunk scheme in connection with the asserted sale of oil leases to an elderly Tustin widow.

On motion of Deputy District Attorney J. E. Walker, separate felony charges that Curtiss issued a fictitious $500 check to E. D. Webb, Santa Ana bail bondsman, was dismissed.

INSURANCE TEMPEST IN CITY COUNCIL

With a bid $218 higher than that of their competitor, Paul Muench and Clyde Newton, representing the Pacific Indemnity company, were offered the city's insurance business on a $100,000 public liability accident policy last night at a star chamber session of the Orange city council.

Muench's and Newton's bid was $268, whereas as bid by John Powell of the United Pacific Insurance company of Seattle of $265 was rejected.

"It is not customary for cities to ask for formal bids on insurance," City Attorney Gordon Richmond commented today, "nor to award the insurance to the lowest bidder." He said one of the principal considerations in buying insurance for the city is the policy itself which is offered.

The Pacific Indemnity company first approached a committee on the policy and later the United Pacific of Seattle asked for permission to bid, according to City Atty. Richmond. The committee was composed of Councilmen Henry Bandick, C. M. Carlson and Atty. Richmond.

The insurance will cover all liability for persons injured by operations of the city," Atty. Richmond explained. The company guarantees payment as high as $50,000 for any one person or $100,000 for two or more persons in any one accident.

Los Angeles Open Golf May Be Reduced to $5000

LOS ANGELES. (AP) — Civic backers of the annual Los Angeles Open golf tournament said today they were having difficulty putting over the event.

Usually the richest in California's winter circuit, the tourney has been billed as for $8000. The junior chamber of commerce said it had the promotion money "set aside but so far it has been impossible to find a sponsor to underwrite the purse."

The junior chamber also admitted "sponsors may be forced to cut down the purse from last year's $8000 to the $5000 of several preceding years."

The tournament, which always attracts the nation's leading professionals, is to be held at the city-operated Wilson course in Griffith park, scene of the last event. Dates are Jan. 7 to 10.

Famous Dancer Paints in Asylum

LONDON. (American Wire)—The famous Russian dancer, Nijinski, has shown himself equally talented as a painter, while an inmate of an insane asylum in Switzerland, critics here agreed today. An exhibition of his drawings has just been opened at the Storrans gallery.

"They have a real existence in art, apart from any significance as pathological documents. For the artist their conception made a bulwark of lucidity against the invading darkness. The feeling of rhythm, expressed with a strong logic of form and pure simple lines are the obvious characteristics," said one enthusiastic critic.

Tunnels in L. A.'s Sliding Hill Are Mystery

LOS ANGELES. (American Wire)—Great mystery in connection with this city's great sliding mountain is not so much the cause of the slide, as it is the origin of the tunnels which honeycomb the great hill and which are helping cause the slide.

A party of newspapermen went into the hill through the maze of tunnels for more than 100 feet, and found the tunnels to be elaborately lined with bricks.

Persistent legends of the tunnels had been denied until recently by various historical bodies, because there is no record of their building. The shifting of the mountain, however, has revealed that miles of shafts run through it in every direction. All of these were picked out by hand, sometime in the early history of the California colony.

The tunnels do not appear to be mines. It is thought possible they led to some Spanish treasure hoard—but if so, why so many of them? Another possibility is that they were some part of the defense works of early Los Angeles.

Historians cannot understand why no mention has ever been found of this project, which must have taken hundreds of men many years to complete.

The newspapermen found the tunnels now half filled with water and broken by the slides which, if they continue, will blot out forever this mysterious relic of early California life.

COW DEATH LAW REPEAL IS SOUGHT

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—The state supreme court today was asked to declare unconstitutional the bovine tuberculosis control act which allowed the state department of agriculture, in a cooperative program with the federal government, to condemn dairy cattle found to be infected with tuberculosis.

The court's decision was asked by the Western Dairyman's union, a Merced county organization composed of more than 700 dairymen, in an appeal taken from the Merced county superior court.

The dairymen's union attacks the tubercular testing program on the grounds the tests are not efficient and are given by inexperienced operators. The charge also is made that "powerful and wealthy industries" are directing a campaign of persecution against the dairymen's union through the tubercular testing program so that the large industries can gain a monopolistic control in California of dairy products.

Il Duce's Son May Be Called In Court Fight

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—The possibility that Vittorio Mussolini, son of Il Duce, may give a deposition in connection with a pending lawsuit here appeared today following a court ruling.

Overruling a demurrer, Superior Judge W. Turner Fox yesterday held that Hal Roach, film producer, must file within 20 days an answer to a suit brought by Dr. Renato Senise.

Dr. Senise charges that Roach owes him $30,000 for arranging a deal whereby Roach and Mussolini would embark on an Italian motion picture project.

Mussolini was here this fall for a visit in connection with the project.

Depend on Janet to make a hit. Her talk's as sparkling as her smile.

Secret of her merry vivid chatter is—she's wise to all the Three Great Vocabulary Vices, never lets them catch her napping.

1. Worn-out Phrases. What's your score on, "It's a small world after all"—"Last but not least"—"Better late than never?"

2. Big words. Do you CONVERSE or TALK? RESIDE or LIVE at home? PURCHASE or BUY a newspaper? RETIRE or GO TO BED?

3. Grammatical Errors. Do slips like these betray you—HOW'S YOURSELF for HOW ARE YOU? RIGHT SMART for VERY SMART? LEAVE GO OF for LET GO OF?

It's fun to build a fresh vocabulary—to throw out tiresome old words, learn bright new ones from newspapers, advertisements, other people's conversation.

Our 32-page booklet shows you how to develop a fascinating friend-winning vocabulary. How to talk easily in any gathering, avoid embarrassing mistakes.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. HOBBS

This column is indebted to Mrs. A. B. Hart, West 17th street, for the information that Mr. and Mrs. Dewey S. Hubbard of Lima street, Burbank, but formerly of Orange county are now visiting with relatives of Mrs. Hubbard in Kansas. They left California by auto on Thanksgiving day and plan to visit with other relatives in Missouri after leaving Kansas. From there they will go to Des Moines, Iowa, where they will visit with Mr. Hubbard's mother and take dinner with her on Christmas day which will be the first time in 25 years that this privilege has been enjoyed. Dewey S. Hubbard, as the Orange county Townsends call him is a former president of the Garden Grove Club No. 1. He and Mrs. Hubbard plan on arriving back in California by New Year's day.

The Buena Park Club No. 1 will stage one of their famous type of pot-luck dinners at 6:30 tomorrow night in the Woman's clubhouse at Eleventh and Grand. Here's gambling that Sam Craig will invigilate some of the lady cooks to have lemon cream pie on the menu. The writer has absorbed the history of a number of pie-eaters but he has yet to hear of one who can surpass Craig in disposing of lemon pie. If you want to see gloom written all over Craig's face just try and stage a pot-luck dinner without his brand of pie.

S. L. Skinner, club president will preside over the Townsend meeting which at 7:30 will follow the dinner. Walter R. Hobbs of Santa Ana will address the club group using as his subject, "The Townsend Plan versus The Old Age Security Act."

Mrs. P. E. Dooley, 604 N. Ross, Telephone 1875J asks that this column announce that ticket No. 27 drew the black silk pillow on display during the Townsend bazaar in the Dr. Francis E. Townsend booth. Also that Ticket No. 46 drew the Cobb comfort exhibited in the same booth. Persons holding the above numbered tickets should get in touch with Mrs. Dooley.

All members of the Townsend 19th district board except George K. Ebert of Redlands were present at the meeting of the board in Tustin last Saturday afternoon. Afterwards the lady members of Tustin Club No. 1 served the board group with a real dinner. Others who attended the meeting were Captain Russell R. Hand and Ted E. Felt of Los Angeles and District

BRAZIL COFFEE PACT SOUGHT

RIO DE JANEIRO, (AP)—Financial secretaries of Brazil's eight coffee-producing states will meet tomorrow to decide on joint application of the new policy of unrestricted coffee exports.

The ministry said discussions would be devoted to administration of the decree of Nov. 13, which abolished exchange restrictions and lowered the export tax on coffee.

Alliance Group Pickets State Relief Setup

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—One hundred Workers' Alliance members and their children picketed the state-relief headquarters here yesterday in a demonstration protesting the recent action of the welfare organization in announcing able-bodied men refusing available labor would be removed from the rolls.

The alliance contends the administration has been sending applicants to the cotton fields. This, it charges, forces child labor and keeps the children from the schools. Children carried a coffin in the picket line.

Spanish War Disillusions College Youth

BOSTON, (AP)—Edgar Lehman, 25, of Chicago, Lawrence University student, returned today from the Spanish warfront "disillusioned and glad to be back where democracy is a real and sound ideal."

Lehman said he had gone to Spain six months ago from New York with several other students and joined the Loyalists' cause. He said he took part in offensives in which many were killed.

He soon learned, he continued, there was a tendency toward denial of what "we thought we were fighting for—democracy."

The young man said he deserted.

L. A. Investigator Takes Part in Arizona Graft Quiz

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A Los Angeles investigator who was brought to Phoenix by the Maricopa county attorney to clean up an alleged gambling racket involving public officials testified today J. B. Rhodes, El Paso slot machine operator, "complained bitterly" that he had been double crossed by Sheriff Roy Merrill, one of the defendants.

Grays Harbor Not Ashamed of Big Rainfall

HOQUIAM, WASH. (AP)—Grays Harbor boosters for years have shush-shushed discussion of the district's heavy rainfall, but today the chamber of commerce decided to come right out and brag about the precipitation and announced organization of a "rain guessing contest."

LeRoy Milbrad, president of the Hoquiam chamber, said the contest will be based on the total 1938 rainfall.

"We've got the rain so let's tell the world about it," Milbrad said. "It makes possible our huge forests. Rain talk isn't taboo any more. We're proud of it."

Statistics had a field day preparing for the contest. Wettest year was 1933, when 113.40 inches of rain was recorded. A mere 49.50 inches were tallied in 1929.

Airplane Sale Mark Is Set

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The air commerce bureau reported today aircraft manufacturers produced 2757 airplanes in the first nine months of 1937, representing a 25 per cent increase over the corresponding 1936 period.

The bureau said 1821 of the airplanes were for domestic use, 484 for the military services and 452 for export.

In addition to the airplanes, the manufacturers produced 22 gliders and nine lighter-than-air craft.

Jon Hall Loses All in Big City

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Jon Hall, film leading man, was back today from New York, sans hat, coat and 15 pounds.

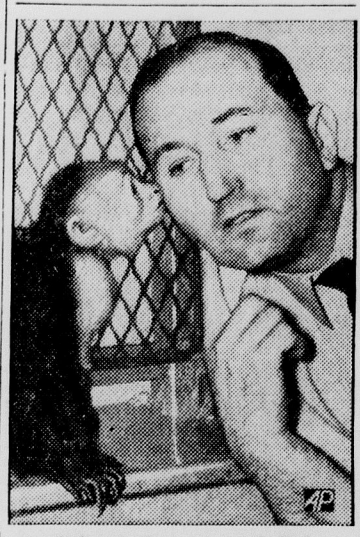

His hat disappeared in a Manhattan restaurant and his top coat in a railway station, but where the poundage went in the excitement, Hall doesn't recall.

It was his first trip to the big city. "Everybody there sleeps in the daytime and plays at night," he asserted. "In order not to be a hermit, I stayed up, too."

Fleas? Never! Monkeys Are Just Nervous

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—So—you thought monkeys had fleas! You can take the word of Col. A. D. Dawson, who has trained monkeys for years, that they don't and all that scratching they do is just plain nervousness.

Even as the colonel (he's a Kentucky colonel) blasted the monkeys-have-fleas legend, Jocko, a white-faced ringtail from the jungles of Brazil, sat back on his haunches and with a sly grin on his wrinkled face calmly did a very thorough job of scratching.

Colonel Dawson and Pal

"Fleas won't stay on monkeys," Dawson continues. "They can't stand the monkeys and furthermore they won't get on anything that a monkey has handled," he adds emphatically.

(That's a tip for dog-owners, says Dawson. Just get a monkey to play with the family dog and end the flea menace.)

"Monkeys," he says, "are like children. Some are smart and others are stupid. Also some are not physically strong enough to do tricks."

"Once a monkey learns a trick," says Dawson, "it never forgets. You can teach it another trick and come back to the first one weeks later, and it will remember it."

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Trial of four men charged with plotting to extort money from opera stars by means of indecent pictures began in federal district court today. District Attorney P. W. Lanier said the conspiracy, discovered several months ago, was aimed at Lily Pons, Lucrezia Bori and Rose and Carmella Ponselle.

Defendants are George J. Schultz, former guard at the North Dakota penitentiary where the government charges the plot was hatched; Theodore Larson, serving a life term in the penitentiary for murder; George Koteris of Buffalo, N. Y.; and Frank S. Fowler, an inmate scheduled for release soon after the plan was worked out.

Lanier said he would present evidence to show Larson, a photographer, evolved the plan to superimpose pictures of heads of the singers on lewd pictures, re-photograph the combination and use the resulting prints for extortion purposes.

Pardon Denied Triple Killer

BOISE, Idaho, (AP)—The Idaho pardon board has refused to commute the death sentence of Douglas Van Vlack, Tacoma, Wash., triple killer.

The vote was 2 to 1.

Governor Barzilla W. Clark voted to commute but Secretary of State Ira H. Masters and Attorney General J. T. Taylor opposed Van Vlack's plea, which was based on asserted insanity.

Van Vlack, black haired, 33-year-old former University of Washington student, was convicted of murdering his divorced wife, Mildred Hook of Tacoma, and confessed killing two Idaho officers who stopped his car near Buhl, Idaho, two years ago.

Driving Classes Hard on Cars

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut motor vehicles department decided today the only way to make a safe driving course for high school students really "safe" was to keep the students from behind the wheel.

The class was permitted to drive in state cars last week. After ruefully looking at broken headlights and dented fenders resulting from traffic accidents, Commissioner Michael A. Connor said from now on the pupils will watch their instructors drive.

Director Freed In Damage Case

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Roy Del Ruth, film director, was eliminated by the court today as co-defendant in a $60,000 damage suit brought by his former maid, Clemmie Ramey.

The notice accused Mrs. Del Ruth of knocking her down and kicking her during a quarrel over a telephone call. Del Ruth contended he was not responsible for what occurred in his absence.

Fire Menaces 1000 Pupils

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—More than 1000 grade school children marched out into the coldest weather of the year in less than two minutes today when a ventilator in the basement of South Highland school caught fire.

Classes were resumed after 30 minutes. Damage was estimated at $50.

HERE'S A TIP FOR DEATH Pedestrians Easy Picking

Here's a tip for death. Try your fine Italian hand among the ranks of walkers next time out and see what happens. It's more fun than anything to knock off a pedestrian. What's more, the pedestrian will help. He's a lawless sort at heart—a fine, free spirit with a mind of his own.

This Journal reporter took a 30-minute jaunt around town today in death's interest. In 30 minutes he scouted up 28 nice prospects for the grim accountant.

Listen, Death, you want to have yourself a time, step down to the nearest corner and watch the pedestrians try to beat the traffic light. This is a great game—and the most popular of all.

Those bell signals have a warning interval. And Death, you could probably end the debate about what it's for. The driver thinks it's for him. If he's already into the intersection he keeps on going through after the first bell.

The pedestrian thinks it's for him. Without exception anywhere from six to 24 walkers are off at the sound of the first bell, like cross-country racers jockeying for position.

There's a virgin field. Send a car through the intersection after the warning bell. Then send a couple of pedestrians off the curb, heads down, arms swinging in an effort to cross the street in two seconds instead of five. The mess will be good, grisly fun, don't you think?

Second most popular pastime among pedestrians appears to be jaywalking.

Hang around some day, Death, until you see Mrs. Jones of Santa Ana climb out of the back seat of her car, tell Mr. Jones to wait just a minute, and trot across the street in the middle of the block to buy 10 cents worth of dried onions and loaf of bread.

Your assistant would have to be driving only 15 miles an hour if he got there just at the right time.

Or wait until Mr. Jones drives around the block twice, then pulls up and waves to Mrs. Jones across the street. She'll start right over, and there's your chance.

This diagonal parking presents some nice opportunities for fun, too. Mrs. Jones is extremely apt to head her car into the curb about halfway down the block, get out and walk out into the traffic from between her car and the one parked next. Look around a while and you'll see enough of these chances to keep you busy.

Around the big markets you could have a lot of fun. Butchers, grocers, clerks, truck drivers and shoppers are all prospective clients of yours.

The easiest way to get from the Empire Market to Grand Central Market, of course, is to walk diagonally across between corners. And there's your chance. If you look around you'll see plenty of truckers and assistants walking around the back end of trucks sticking way out into the street. Need we say more?

Catch a couple of women shoppers walking down the sidewalk arm in arm and you've a sterling opportunity.

The pair we watched today took the curbing and intersection in stride, marched together arm in arm, packages, chattering blindly and blithely of last Wednesday's little slam bid with only three and half honors. This is just a hunch tip, of course.

Children chasing balls into the street are old stuff to you, of course.

As are pedestrians walking the wrong way up the highway.

As are hitch-hikers standing 10 feet out into the road.

As are boys and their dogs.

We have them all. Look around next time you're down this way.

COAST CONFERENCE COACHES RECOMMEND RULES CHANGES

By RUSSELL J. NEWMAN
DEL MONTE. (AP)—Faculty athletic representatives of the Pacific Coast conference were confronted today with the weighty problem of deciding between appointment of a commissioner with complete authority or retaining the present operating set-up of the circuit.

It was the paramount issue of the concluding day's program. A report from a special committee appointed to investigate the proposition was before the faculty heads.

There was no inkling whether the report recommended a switch to the "czar" type of regime. The committee has deliberated on the matter for several months. Election of officers, adoption of the 1939 football schedule and filling of next year's gridiron program were other details on the business docket.

In yesterday's opening session, the faculty discussed eligibility cases and heard routine reports. Graduate managers re-arranged parts of the 1938 football schedule and drew up recommendations to be submitted to the faculty representatives, final arbiters in all matters of the conference.

Recommendations for several rules changes, including a revision of the pass rule to permit the ball to be thrown from any point behind the line of scrimmage instead of five yards back as at present, were made by the coaches, also meeting separately. The coaches also suggested a return to the old rule making a blocked kick dead in the try for point after touchdown phase of the game. The kicking side now is permitted to run with the ball if the kick is blocked in an attempt to score the extra point.

The coaching delegation also criticized the present rule which sends the ball back to the line of scrimmage after an illegal lateral has been flipped on the tail end of a completed forward pass. It was suggested that a five-yard penalty be imposed at the point of origin of the illegal lateral. Permitting the rest of the gain made on the completed forward pass to remain. The recommendations will be forwarded to the National Rules committee.

There were no knockdowns, but Rosenbloom slipped to one knee in the fifth. Bray matched slapstick cuffed blows with some of his own. The verdict went to Rosenbloom by a 2 to 1 vote of referee and judges.

MONROY HITS BASKET FOR 16 POINTS

Tustin High school's defending Southern California basketball champions, polishing off Santa Ana's Saints at the Citrus Belt league 34 to 20 here yesterday, will go up against Claremont tomorrow in the first round of the annual La Verne college invitation.

The Orange league quintet, coached by Ralph (Bill) Cole, piled up a 21-12 advantage over Joe Koegler's Saints at half-time, and dominated the next two periods by a margin of 13-8.

Tustin's Class Bees edged out Santa Ana's sophomores in a 21 to 20 thriller. Both games were played in Andrews gymnasium on the Santa Ana High school campus.

Larry Monroy, who along with the Francis brothers—Sam and Paul—sparked Tustin to the southland championship last winter, rang up 16 points at guard for Tustin yesterday, with Gene O'Campo, Pete Partida and O'Neill sharing honors for the Saints with four points each. Vic Linker, another regular of Tustin's '36 kingpins, scored six points.

Foot-Bowl Games

By the AP Feature Service

Who won the Soup Bowl football game a year ago New Year's day? There are so many Jan. 1 bowl games nowadays that it's hard to keep up with 'em. So we're taking it upon ourselves to refresh your memory as to what happened in the 1937 New Year's contests. Besides those we list, Jan. 1, 1938, will see the annual East-West all-star game at San Francisco and the Havana Bacardi Bowl affair. Then there's a Sun Bowl in Texas, but we have yet to hear of a Dust Bowl battle.

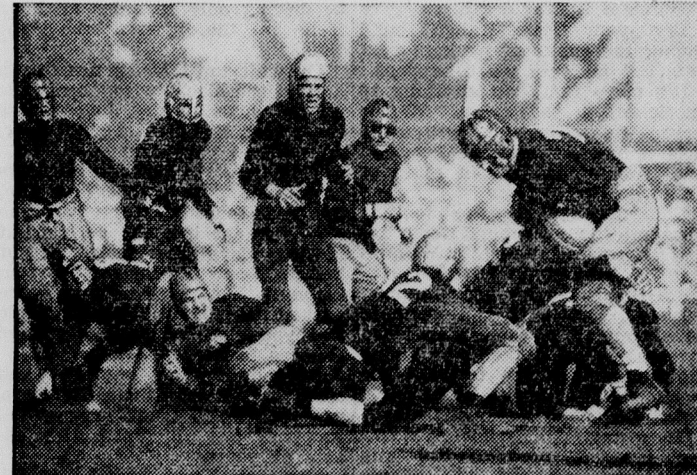

At Pasadena, Calif.—In the Rose Bowl, Pittsburgh's fullback, Frank Patrick—you can't see him—plunged across for a score in Pitt's 21-0 triumph over Washington. This may seem like just another touchdown to you, but it was important to Pitt. For the Panthers finally won a Bowl game after three losses. Pitt wouldn't go back, so Alabama will play California next Jan. 1.

At New Orleans, La.—In the Sugar Bowl, Louisiana fans groaned at this most disheartening moment. Gomez caught a 20-yard pass from Falaschi and was off for Santa Clara's first-period touchdown in the Broncos' triumph over Louisiana State, 21-14. L. S. U. will have an opportunity to even matters, for these teams have been selected to battle it out again. It looks like a toss-up.

At Dallas, Texas—In the Cotton Bowl, Sammy Baugh's passes brought Texas Christian a 16-6 triumph over Marquette. Here's one that failed as an alert Marquette defender batted down a toss to Roach just as the Texan grasped it. No. 36 was Marquette's Buzz Buivid. Colorado's unbeaten team will face a southern eleven this time, replacing Marquette. All-America Halfback Byron White may steal the show.

At Miami, Fla.—In the Orange Bowl, Boyd Brumbaugh of Duquesne gained five yards before bumping into Musselwhite of Mississippi State. The Dukes won, 13-12. The Pennsylvanians blackened their upper cheeks to protect their eyes from sun rays. Michigan State invades this time with Charles Bachman, former Florida grid mentor, ready to show off before the old "home folks."

La Due Permitted To Employ 'Flip'

Monty La Due, the French Apache wrestler who meets "Wild Red" Berry, former world lightweight titleholder, in one of the three-fall finish headline matches at the Orange County Athletic club tomorrow night, will be permitted to use his celebrated "Apache flip."

This ruling again was handed down by the California State Athletic club as the result of the dispute over the hold that caused a fist fight and the defeat of the Frenchman last week at the Highway 101 arena.

College of Pacific Will Play Chicago

CHICAGO. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, University of Chicago football coach for 41 years, will return to Stagg field next fall to lead a gridiron foe against the Maroons.

Stagg's College of Pacific eleven from Stockton, Calif., has been signed for a game Nov. 12, as a tribute to the veteran on his 50th year of football coaching next season. "The grand old man" left Chicago in 1933, at the age of 71, under the university faculty retirement rule.

DON QUINTET BOWS, 34-18 TO BANKERS

So badly disorganized in the second half that they sent only four points through the hoop, Santa Ana Junior college's basketball team took its most severe lacing of the pre-league practice tilts from the strong Los Angeles Bank of America club, 34 to 18, at Tustin High school's gymnasium last night.

Coach Blanchard Beatty's Dons showed none of the offensive and defensive thrusts which they displayed when they stopped the strong M. G. M. Studio quintet last month.

Completely reversing their first half form when they trailed by the slim margin of 17 to 14, the Dons' defense became shoddy as the bankers found the basket an easy target. Santa Ana had numerous chances at the hoop, but their shots dropped short or sailed over the basket.

The defeat sent their string to four straight losses against two wins. The Pacific coast club of Long Beach invades the Tustin pavilion Friday night at 8 o'clock for a joust with the Dons.

In the preliminary tilt last night, the Don reserves dropped a 35 to 6 decision to the Y. M. C. A. league leader, Wilson's Dairy.

CHARITY GRID GAME SLATED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Two of the nation's leading teachers colleges, Arkansas and Fresno State, were signed today to play an inter-sectional football game in Gilmore stadium here Christmas day.

The Arkansas lads from Conway boast a record of no defeats or ties in two years, and have rolled up 564 points to opponents' 74.

Fresno State from central California won the Far Western league championship this year.

James (Rabbit) Bradshaw, ex-Nevada star, coaches Fresno State, while Warren Woodson, formerly of Baylor, guides the Conway Teachers.

The game will be sponsored by a non-sectarian group to raise milk funds for children. Heading the committee is Bob Burns, the sage of Van Buren, Ark.

TROJAN CAGERS LEAVE TODAY

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—University of Southern California's basketball squad, led by Coach Sam Barry, leaves today on a Christmas vacation hamstering campaign that will carry it as far south as New Orleans.

The Trojans play New Mexico State tomorrow and Friday; Tulane at New Orleans Dec. 13-14, Louisiana State Dec. 16-17, and Rice Institute at Houston, Tex., Dec. 20-21.

Last night the Trojans unveiled their new team, beating the M-G-M studio cagers, 53-34. Long Jack Hupp, former S. C. captain, was high-point man. He made 20 for M-G-M, which also had Cotton Warburton's services.

WILSON'S, AL'S FIVES CLASH

Wilson's Dairy basketball team and Al's Lock and Key Shop quintet will furnish the fireworks for tonight's Y. M. C. A. basketball triple-header when they clash at 7 o'clock. Patterson Dairy and Montgomery Ward take the floor at 8, with Excelsior Creamery and Penhall's of Westminster mixing in the evening's finale.

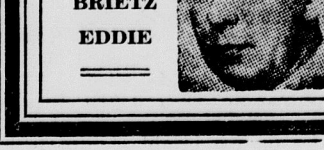

The Advent Christians and Barr Lumber company vie tomorrow night.

Loyola Schedules Centenary, Baylor

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Loyola university Lions, who played Centenary and Baylor on their 1937 football schedule, will meet these two Southwestern teams again next year, the athletic board announced today.

The Lions will go to Shreveport, La., Oct. 29, to play Centenary, victim of a 14-7 defeat on Armistice Day. The Baylor Bears will come to Los Angeles to furnish heavyweights for the annual, stopped Baylor won, 27 to 13, this year at Beaumont, Texas.

EDDIE

NEW YORK. (AP)—Detroit fans are so indignant over the trade which sent Gerald Walker to Chicago the papers have had to explain their letters-to-the-editor departments. . . . Mickey Cochrane knows he stuck his chin out, for he made Jimmy Dykes promise he wouldn't play Walker on the Sox's first trip to Detroit. (But Dykes says he will.)

The Detroit Lions can't win many games. . . . The Red Wings are down in the dumps. . . . Joe Louis isn't so hot any more, but the auto city can claim all 11 places on the all-American panthers' team. . . . Tiger fans began to growl when Goose Goslin got the air. . . . They roared when there was talk of changing the name of Navin field to Briggs stadium. . . . Now they're on the loose and talking boycott. . . . But if we know our Detroiters, they'll probably be right back out there breaking attendance records next season.

If you believe in omens, the Chicago Bears may get kicked all around the field when they play Washington next Sunday. . . . A large picture of Bronko Nagurski which adorned the walls of the New York Giants offices crashed to the floor with a bang yesterday. . . . Head writers of Cleveland papers like 'em short and snappy. . . . One captioned an exhibition by Burper Danno O'Mahoney: "Danno Is Floppo." . . . Little Davey O'Brien, the Texas Christian sparkplug, was the only man to get a unanimous vote on Fordham's all-opponent team.

So far, Otto Bluege, the infielder, is the champion traveler of the big league baseball meetings. . . . At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Jersey City sent him to Los Angeles, and five minutes later Los Angeles traded him to Birmingham. . . . Old Strangler Lewis (he must be pushing 55) is wowing 'em in Paris. . . . A pup owned my Rick Ferrell, Washington catcher, won a Pointer Club of America stake down at Pinhurst the other day.

The Terry-McCarthy pipe incident caused big laughs everywhere except with the Jints, who took it seriously. . . . Coach Pancho Snyder said: "McCarthy had better not make any remarks about my pipe. . . . Any guy can manage a club stacked with Dickeys, Gehrigs, etc." . . . An Italian sporting society pitched a dinner for the riders in last week's bike race. . . . Grand prize was a $350 payment on an auto. . . . Mrs. Heinz Vopel, wife of one of the winners, was given the honor of making the draw. . . . Up she stepped and pulled out the ticket of Mrs. Gustav Kilian, wife of Vopel's partner. . . . How's that for teamwork?

The Bulldogs traded two players, whose names were not disclosed, for Karpus in a deal with the New York Yankees. They will report to the Yankees next fall.

Karpus starred for University of Detroit and made a success in pro ball in his first season.

ARMY ALTERS ELIGIBILITY IN FOOTBALL

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—The athletic eligibility "ghost" that has haunted Army's football relations with Navy, the Big Ten and virtually all of its major gridiron rivals for years, was laid to rest today.

In a move that made it appear Army was definitely giving ground, particularly in view of the recent Big Ten decision removing the ban from West Point as gridiron opposition, the military academy changed its eligibility rules to conform with the standard of Navy and "the leading civilian colleges in the country."

The switch, announced last night by the academy's superintendent, Major General William D. Connor, would put athletes under the three-year varsity eligibility rule in force on the squads of every big time college.

Up to now, Army has permitted its athletes to play three years at West Point, regardless of previous experience at other colleges before entering the academy. Under this category have come "Light Horse" Harry Wilson, among Army's greats, who played at Penn State before entering the Point; Tiny Hewett, who went to Army after performing for Pitt, and Elmer Oliphant, who completed his career at Purdue before matriculating at the academy.

Army's contention that its athletes held a separate and distinct position on the three-year question led to the famous break with Navy in 1928 and 1929. The naval academy, conforming to the generally accepted collegiate rule of a total of three varsity years for an athlete to include his playing time at all colleges, had insisted after the 1927 service clash, that Army also comply.

DONS AWAIT RUGBY TEST

Santa Ana Junior college's Don football squad which turned out a razzle-dazzle outfit using rugby laterals this past season, will soon start turning its attention to the lightning-fast English sport, A. J. (Bill) Cook announced today.

An eight-team league known as Southern California Rugby league has been formed and the first tilt is scheduled for Jan. 7, in the Municipal Bowl, where the Don ruggers square off with the Golden State 15 of Hollywood.

An undefeated team last year under the tutelage of Ernest Buterworth, former Canadian rugger, the Dons will have a nucleus of a powerful squad this season with a good share of the Eastern conference co-champions scheduled to try their skill at the sport.

The only question for Cook to solve is the coaching problem. Buterworth may not be available this season.

The University of Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles varsities headline the list of eight teams. Others in the conference are Santa Ana, Long Beach and Pasadena Jaysees, Santa Barbara State and Golden State (Hollywood).

DONS' FULLBACK UNDER KNIFE

Dick Saunders, reserve quarter and fullback on Santa Ana Jaysees' championship football squad, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday. Saunders is a brother of Russ Saunders, the Trojan immortal.

TRADING BEE DULLEST IN MANY YEARS

By PAUL MICKELSON
CHICAGO. (AP)—American

leaguers will keep on their prime-time path of happy customers and home runs for 1938 while their national league cousins go back to the old skin game of squeeze play, shorter hits and photo finish games.

The American leaguers voted to retain the old lively ball whereas the national leaguers, unblinded by such home run hitters as Joe Di Maggio, Lou Gehrig and Jimmy Fox, decided to go back to the dealer horseshoe yesterday. Thus, after four years of agreement on the ball, the two leagues again find they have agreed to disagree.

What the difference in the baseball will be is anybody's guess. One ball manufacturer said the new league ball would travel but a few feet farther than the National brand, while another said the difference might be as much as 200 more home runs for the Americans. In manufacture, the new National league sphere has a slightly heavier cover and five strands of thread instead of four.

BLAME EACH OTHER

Both league heads blamed the other for the split.

"We were in complete agreement to change the ball," explained President Ford Frick of the Nationals, "and the American leaguers suddenly backed out, leaving us with no other possible action but to go ahead with the dealer ball."

"We were open to a change but failed to find a new one that looked better for our purpose than the one we used last season," said the American league president, Will Harridge. "Furthermore, we were supposed to meet with the National Monday night for a demonstration, and they didn't show up. We have appointed a committee to study the baseball further but there will be no change until the 1939 season at the earliest."

A few major league pilots and club owners still hoped to swing a few last-minute deals in the final hours of the deadest trading bee in years, though none of them was willing to bet a pair of shoestrings on it. Prosperity ruined the present ivory market. Everybody had money to spend for players, but the supply of good ball players was far under the demand. Moreover, not many owners want to sell until the end of the year for income tax reasons.

SOX BUY WILLIAMS

The Boston Red Sox, who did quite a bit of business here and at Milwaukee, landed a very promising recruit last night by buying Ted Williams, 19-year-old outfielder, from the San Diego Padres. Ted, a husky six-footer who has had but two years of pro baseball experience, hit only 282 last season for the Padres but slammed out 25 homers. Pacific coast managers here for the shopping tour, say he's one of the greatest prospects in years. Both New York clubs, Detroit and Cleveland, bid for him but the Red Sox got him for cash, Outfielder Dominic Dallesandro and infielder Al Niemi.

Catcher Earl Grace of the Philadelphia Phillies was sent to the St. Louis Cardinals for Cap Clark, a young catcher who was with Houston and Columbus last season.

PWA LOANS FOR UTILITY DEFENDED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Government attorneys argued before the supreme court today that Public Works Administration loans and grants to publicly owned electric plants constituted a lawful attempt to relieve unemployment.

Solicitor General Stanley Reed and Jerome Frank, special assistant to the attorney general, presented the government's side. William H. Thompson, attorney for the Alabama Power company earlier had assailed the financing program as unconstitutional.

Frank denied Thompson's statement that four Alabama municipalities, building electric plants with federal funds, were required to purchase power from the Tennessee Valley authority.

"They are as free as the air to buy from the Alabama power company or anyone else," Frank asserted.

"Birth of Baby" Film Banned by N. Y. Authorities

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Public showing of "The Birth of a Baby," a sound picture, was prohibited today in New York state.

Education Commissioner Frank P. Graves asserted that he had denied a license on grounds that the film was "indecent, immoral and would tend to corrupt morals."

In his ruling upholding a decision of the motion picture division, Dr. Graves said that the picture is a "medical treatise in pictorial form presented for the alleged purpose of enlightening prospective fathers and mothers."

Postoffice Still Forwards Letters

Regardless of changes in the postal directory service to go into effect July 1, Santa Anans who will leave their forwarding addresses at the post office when moving will be assured of receiving their mail at the new locations.

Postmaster Frank Harwood said today that all forwarding addresses filed in his office will be placed in the directory after July 1 as they have in the past, provided no further changes in the postal laws are made.

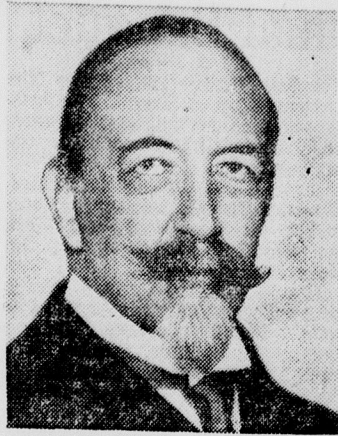

Part of the services now extended to patrons of the postoffice through the city directory are to be dropped after July 1, making it urgent for Santa Anans to furnish the office after that date with forwarding addresses when moving to another residence in this community or leaving the city.

RECESSION IN KING TRADE Add to List of Unemployed

ARCHDUKE OTTO OF HUNGARY

In the castle of Steenokerkel near Brussels, 25-year-old Archduke Francis Joseph Otto of Hungary maintains an imperial court in exile and hopes for his restoration to the throne his Hapsburg ancestors held for eight centuries.

PRINCE JUAN OF SPAIN

Youngest son of former King Alfonso XIII of Spain, Prince Juan became the Spanish royal family's heir apparent when both his elder brothers married commoners. Spanish monarchists supporting General Franco and his insurgents in the civil war want 24-year-old Juan to return from England, as king if Franco wins.

"TOO OLD," DIES
CHICO, Calif. (AP)—Because at 46 years of age he had been told he was "too old" when he applied for 14 jobs, H. F. Gilcrest of San Francisco ended his life in his automobile by inhaling carbon monoxide fumes here yesterday.

No unemployment census would be complete now without the names of several gentlemen who have been out of work a long time and whose trade is highly specialized. The gentlemen in question are pretenders to numerous European thrones and, with the king business being what it is in these days of prosaic economic "isms" it seems likely that they'll be out of a job for some time to come.

Heading the list, of course, is the well-known Duke of Windsor, who quit the king job voluntarily and won't even admit that it is nice work if you can get it to do. At last accounts he wasn't even in the market for a job.

Most of the others, though, have an ear for anyone who wants a good, steady, reliable king, willing to work full shifts and be reasonable about salary. And some of them have better than a thousand-to-one chance of employment. Here are their pictures with an outline of their qualifications and chances.

OIL COMPANY AWARDS BONUS

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—The Plymouth Oil company ordered Christmas bonus for its employees today.

Walter S. Hallanan, president, said the bonus would be two weeks salary or wages to all employees on the payroll of the company and its subsidiary, the Big Lake Oil company, for more than a year.

Employees of less than a year's service will receive one week's pay.

The disbursement is similar to one ordered last December. The company owns fields in Texas, Ohio, and Southern West Virginia.

Tommy Manville Loses Another Blonde Secretary

NEW YORK. (AP)—Tommy Manville, heir to asbestos millions, today advertised for a new secretary to replace Blonde Dolly Goering, one-time tap dancing champion of Louisville, Ky. He said he had fired Miss Goering and explained:

"Dolly has found out that Tommy Manville is not getting married again."

Tommy said also that any new secretary "must be sure she intends to be a secretary and is not applying to be Tommy's fifth wife."

As to the irate Dolly, who accused Manville of always firing his secretaries just before Christmas to avoid giving them presents, Manville retorted:

"Well, she came in with a tooth brush and went out with two cars and 12 trunks. What does she want, humming birds?"

Elk Triplets Bother Lodgemen

GLENDALE. (AP)—It was all very complicated at the Elks lodge initiation here last night until they got around to names.

For William Harcel, sr., and his triplet sons were among the 50 candidates. The sons were initiated by identification only as follows:

William Harcel, jr., John T. and Robert H.

5 CONVICTS TO DIE BY GAS

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Superior Judge Dal M. Lemmon today sentenced the five Folsom convicts found guilty of murdering Warden Clarence A. Larkin to die in the lethal gas chamber at San Quentin.

The defendants had previously been found sane and had been denied a new trial. They are Ed Davis, Wesley E. Eudy, Fred Barnes, Robert Lee Cannon, and Albert Kessell.

They were heavily guarded at the arraignment. All spectators admitted were searched for weapons and the courtroom doors were locked as the court pronounced judgment.

None of the five displayed any emotion.

BRITON STARTS PEACE DRIVE

LONDON. (AP)—George Lansbury, labor member of parliament, departed today on a one-man peace mission to Central Europe to urge "cooperation for defense—not through armaments, but by removing economic difficulties."

He expected to see President Edouard Benes of Czechoslovakia, Chancellor Kurt Von Schuschnigg of Austria and Marshal Edward Rydz-Smigly of Poland.

Closely following in the steps of French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos now on a similar journey, Lansbury will continue peace talks he began with Germany's Chancellor Adolf Hitler and Italian Premier Benito Mussolini this fall.

Inventors Plan 'Squat' Strike

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Plans for a "sit-down" demonstration by inventors to force the government to give more consideration to their needs were considered today by delegates attending the Pacific coast meeting of the National Inventors' congress.

"Unless something can be done to change present conditions, we propose to urge our 50,000 inventors and fellow workers to withhold their inventions from the public and stage a real sit-down demonstration that will halt improvements of every nature," declared Albert G. Burns, president of the congress.

Pair Fight for Gambler's Wealth

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Two women are waging a court contest for the estate of George L. Bruneman, gambler who was assassinated last Oct. 25.

One is Mrs. Patricia Bruneman, who set forth that she is Bruneman's widow and petitioned for letters of administration. The estate, she said, is composed of about $25,000 on deposit in a bank and other property of undetermined value.

Opposing her is Mrs. Mae Bruneman, mother of the slain man. She opposes Mrs. Bruneman on the ground that her son was divorced last year.

WRITER'S WIFE LOST AT SEA

MONTEREY. (AP)—Convinced that Mrs. Sarah Flavin, 54-year-old wife of Playwright Martin Flavin, had accidentally fallen from a cliff and lost her life in the Pacific off Carmel, authorities ordered an extended search for her body today.

A canvas shoe found floating in the surf near Carmel last night was identified by Flavin.

"That's hers," he said when the slipper was brought to him. "She was wearing it when I last saw her."

Mrs. Flavin's tripod camera was found perched on the edge of a 30-foot cliff. Authorities expressed belief she had slipped while adjusting the lens and had fallen into the sea.

INJURED G-MAN NEARS DEATH

KANSAS CITY. (AP)—A series of blood transfusions brought little improvement in the condition of Federal Agent Henry A. Snow, physicians said today, and his fellow officers still sought the man who shot him as he tried to trap an extortionist Monday night.

Sheriff James L. Williams, protecting the F. B. I.'s secrecy, told how one of his deputies, ignorant of the trap set near suburban Independence, almost shot a G-man at the scene just before the exchange in which Snow was wounded.

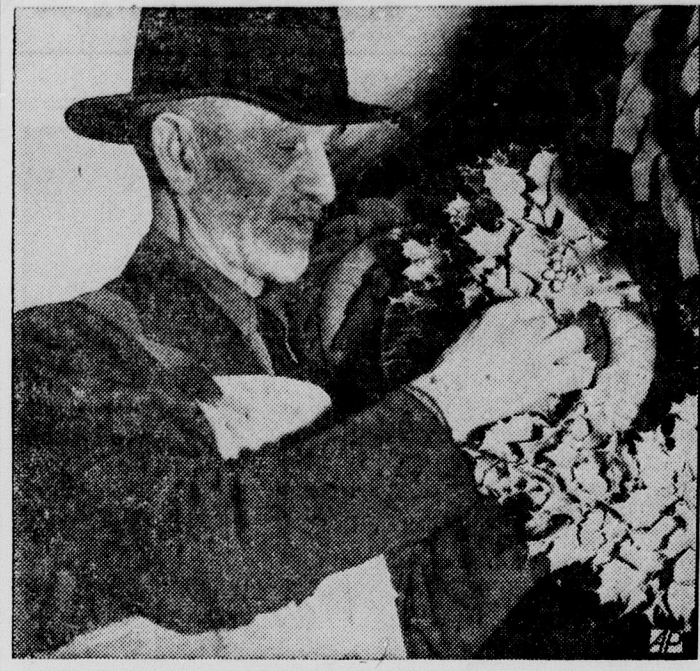

Man Freezes While Hanging to Boat

FAIRVIEW BEACH, Va. (AP)—George T. Zeen, 25, employee of a Washington motorboat firm, froze to death in 15-degree weather yesterday as he clung, knee-deep in icy water, to the top of his partially submerged boat in the Potomac river.

William Barnes, 31, salesman for the same company, hung on to the cabin top until daylight when a farmer rescued him.

"EXPERT" IN BAD
SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Erwin Lehmann, 26, who told Municipal Judge Hugh L. Smith he was traffic expert for an insurance company, must deliver an address on the subject of traffic safety at the police department's traffic school because he ignored a pedestrian "stop" sign yesterday.

His Old Age Insurance

P. H. Peyran, who lost his job as a varnish salesman 20 years ago, has become a leader in the Gig Harbor, Wash., industry that supplies the world with Christmas holly.

NAVY TO BUILD NEW CRUISERS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The navy department has awarded four contracts totaling $29,884,800 for construction of one 9000-ton destroyer tender, one 8300-ton seaplane tender and two 1500-ton destroyers.

The contracts for the tenders, totaling $20,650,555, went to the New York Shipbuilders corporation, Camden, N. J.

One of the destroyers was awarded to the Puget Sound navy yard, Bremerton, Wash., and the other to the Charleston, S. C., navy yard. Their estimates totaled $9,204,295.

Assistant Secretary Charles Edson said the awards were made "in line with President Roosevelt's recent orders to expedite the work wherever possible to stimulate business."

Attorneys View Freedom of Press Battle Text

STEEUBENVILLE, O. (AP)—Attorneys of the national labor board passed on to their chiefs in Washington today the next move in the "freedom of the press" controversy growing out of the Weirton Steel company hearing.

They asked Chairman J. Warren Madden to decide what action should be taken against Hartley W. Barclay, trade magazine editor, and two Pittsburgh advertising executives, who defied subpoenas of the board.

GIG HARBOR, Wash. (AP)—Holly for the Christmas windows of the world moves from this Puget Sound fishing village in boxes and box cars, the shipments representing fulfillment of an old man's dream.

Wherever the age-old custom of displaying lustrous, prickly holly leaves during the holidays is followed—in Patagonia, Honolulu, or New York—Gig Harbor holly finds its place.

More than 4000 pounds of it comes this year from the grove of P. H. Peyran—who dreamed his holly dream 22 years ago and sees it realized today. Before the World war, Peyran was a varnish salesman who already foresaw the day when he would be too old to sell varnish.

Spurred by a nurseryman's casual remarks, he discovered holly was about to disappear from American homes. The wild holly growing mostly in Delaware marshes was nearly exhausted and the United States contained not a single commercial holly grove.

Peyran planted 600 self-pollinating French holly trees on the shores of Puget Sound as old-age insurance.

Two years later, he lost his job. Since that time, holly has supported him.

Comb Kills Aged Spinster

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The death of a 93-year-old spinster, Miss Margaret Curran, was attributed today to the heavy comb which she wore in her hair for many years.

Miss Curran fell yesterday in such a way that the comb pierced her forehead and inflicted a fatal wound.

10 STUDENTS SEEK OFFICE

Ten Santa Ana Junior college students are in the running for four Associated Student offices today. Petitions of nomination have been circulated for the candidates which will place their names on ballots for election.

Dick Phillips and Bill Twist are up for president, Bill Semmacher, Jerry Hawkins, James Herrin and Paul Wollen, for vice president; Aileen Miller and Betty West, secretary, and Bud Knoff and John McBride for treasurer.

All of the nominating petitions must be turned in by this Friday, according to President Al Pickhardt. Election will be held after Christmas vacation.

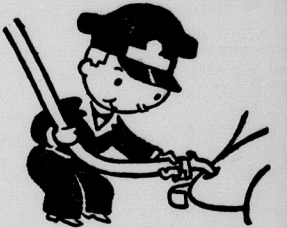

Officers who will terminate their first semester terms of office will be Pickhardt, president; Larry Trickey, vice president; Virginia Sheppard, secretary, and Carl Aubrey, treasurer.

Cripple Leaves For State Prison

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The wheel chair that William George McKibbin testified his mother attempted to take from him, was left behind today as the crippled youth departed for San Quentin prison to begin sentence on a manslaughter charge growing out of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth McKibbin, 79, last April.

McKibbin, who cannot walk, testified the struggle that resulted in his mother's death was precipitated by a threat to take the chair from him.

Officers found this morning the chair could not be taken in the automobile bound for Richmond, Calif. It will be shipped to the prison. McKibbin was sentenced from one to 10 years.

NEWS OF ORANGE COUNTY COMMUNITIES

COSTA MESA RELIEF GROUP IS FORMED

Joint Bureau to Aid Needy Families

COSTA MESA.—In an effort to coordinate relief work in Costa Mesa and to eliminate possibility of aid duplications by two or more of the 14 separate welfare agencies here, chairmen of the welfare committees from each of several organizations consolidated Monday night in a new central bureau, to be known as the Costa Mesa Community association.

Mrs. A. L. Pinkley, Red Cross chairman, was elected president; Neil Murbarger, vice-president and Mrs. Henry Abrams, secretary and treasurer, at the organization meeting where Mrs. John F. Webster presided.

BOARD FORMED

Mrs. Joseph C. Payne and Mrs. Charles Lipscomb, both World War nurses and prominent in local social service work, were named to investigate all applicants for aid. The board of directors will be automatically formed of the welfare chairman from each organization now functioning in Costa Mesa, those represented at the initial meeting including the chamber of commerce, Lions club, Red Cross, Friday afternoon club, American Legion auxiliary, High school P. T. A., Elementary school P. T. A., Ladies Aid, Community church Sunday school, Women's Relief Corps, and Camp Fire Girls. The Costa Mesa Grange also signified its desire to cooperate in the plan and it is believed the Community church Epworth league and the Four-square Gospel church will also join the organization.

CLEANING HOUSE

According to plans formulated at the meeting, a central clearing house for donations will be temporarily established in the rear of the Pinkley pharmacy. A volunteer truck service for collecting contributions will be inaugurated in an effort to halt the steady flow of available materials to outside charitable organizations. All reports of needy persons will be filed with the central bureau and as foodstuffs, clothing and furniture is received, will be apportioned to the applicants. Christmas baskets and toys will be provided to all indigent families whose names are received prior to Dec. 20.

Present at the meeting were Mesdames Henry Abrams, J. O. Tallman, Charles Lipscomb, John Webster, Ward Piley, E. A. Randall, Roy L. Davis, N. O. Mellett, Lee Trime, Neil Murbarger, Frank Cox and Messrs. Henry Abrams, Morris Crawley and R. W. McClellan.

Imperial Highway Group At El Centro Meeting

YORBA LINDA.—Randall Henderson of El Centro, publisher of The Desert magazine, was speaker at the December meeting of the Imperial Highway association Saturday evening in El Centro.

Henderson told of the first trip made up the Colorado river by white men when Lieut. Ives of the U. S. Army engineers was ordered by the war department to make a survey of the Colorado river to ascertain whether or not it was navigable.

Walter F. Haverkort, president of the El Centro Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster. The address of welcome was given by H. L. Bush, of El Centro and La Habra, response was by Ray Baldwin of Long Beach. George Kellogg of Yorba Linda, secretary, reported that the section lying between the La Habra-Buena Park road and Lutweiler avenue will be paved soon, thus giving hard-surfaced road from Yorba Linda west as far as Lutweiler avenue. W. T. Hart of Carlsbad, member of the state highway commission, spoke of a recent meeting of the commission which was attended by approximately one thousand persons. He warned his hearers to be on guard against any attempts to divert part of the gas tax funds.

A roll call showed the following communities to be represented at the meeting: Carlsbad, Corona, El Centro, Elsinore, Glen Ivy, Hawthorne, Hemet, Indio, La Habra, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Lynwood, Murietta, Orange, San Diego and Yorba Linda.

YULE REGATTA PLANS TOLD

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Plans for the most ambitious Christmas harbor regatta ever attempted in the harbor district were announced here today by Harry Welch, chairman of commerce secretary. Dates for the event were set for Dec. 26 to Jan. 2.

As in past years, the Newport Harbor Yacht club will sponsor the event, Welch said, with final program plans to be announced shortly after the club's annual meeting slated for next Saturday.

All popular racing types will be cared for in the program, it has been decided, with events for Pacific Coast class, 6 and 8-meter, 32-footers, "R" class and Star racers. A junior division will offer races for P. I. C.'s and snipe class boats. All events probably will be sailed within the harbor this year, it was intimated, as a decided change over races in other years, when many were held over rough water courses at sea.

More important races will be run on two Sundays, Dec. 26 and Jan. 2, it has been decided, with preliminary events to take place on week days.

Many Pacific coast yachtsmen will take part in the regatta, which annually creates much interest along the coast. This year sailing experts will watch introduction of Star boats equipped with flexible mast and boom, a type of rigging developed by German competitors in the International Star races in New York this summer. Superiority of the new rig over the present method was shown at that time when the Germans showed much greater speed in competition.

In addition to the regatta races, many Christmas parties are planned by yachtsmen and their families for the harbor district.

I JUST FOUND OUT—
Gunsmith Works on Old Muzzle Loaders

By MILLARD BROWNE

"Lock, stock and barrel" may be a trite phrase to some, but one Santa Ana specialist earns his living with it. To Myron Warner—only local full-time gunsmith—locks, stocks and barrels are just broken gadgets that need fixing.

Because Santa Ana is a haven for collectors of ancient muzzle-loaders, Warner has the task of rehabilitating more unshootable weapons than the average gunsmith. Nearly half of his business, in fact, consists of putting ancient muzzle-loaders in working order.

Armed with several hundred assorted tools, from a .015-inch drill to a lathe capable of drilling the bore of a shotgun, Warner can fix or remake any essential part of a common rifle, shotgun or revolver.

He's never started from scratch and made a complete gun, though he's doing it now. It's to be a 29-pound .40 calibre muzzle-loader, and the barrel, toughest part, is nearly finished. It was made from the broken steel shafting of a tractor.

Oldest guns Warner has ever repaired are several flintlocks built around 150 years ago. They're part of Dr. Roy Horton's collection, and all now are in good condition for firing. Dr. Horton also was responsible for Warner's biggest job—reconstruction of a 35-pound, .53 calibre muzzle-loading match rifle.

To stand up under present smokeless powder with its nitro-glycerine base, modern gun barrels are constructed from high-carbon tool steel. Muzzle-loaders aren't so sturdy, though, and powerful modern powder would be likely to crack the barrel of one of these guns. They still use old-style black powder.

Key to successful gunsmithing is precision, and a micrometer is the gunsmith's most frequently used tool. Bore of a 22 calibre rifle must be exactly .22 of an inch in diameter, and the diameter along the entire barrel must be true within .0001 of an inch. A 12-gauge shotgun (diameter: .720 of an inch) can be as much as .723 of an inch in diameter without affecting the accuracy, but its diameter also must be within .0001 of an inch of the same every place along the barrel.

Though a rifle with its curved grooves looks more complicated than a smooth-barreled shotgun, it's just the other way around, Warner explains. That's because a shotgun barrel has a "choke" at the muzzle end, designed to scatter shot properly.

The "choke" is a taper which theoretically converges the shot 15

MUSIC SOOTHES
SALEM, Ore.—State Treasurer Rebus C. Holman poised a blue pencil over Oregon State college's request for 11 pianos.

"Yes," said Budget Director Wallace S. Wharton, "but they have to have contented cows."

He got the pianos.

NEW CHURCH
CORNERSTONE
TO BE LAID

Ceremonies opening the new $75,000 First Presbyterian church were set today for 9 a. m. Sunday, beginning with placing of a cornerstone containing church and community records.

Dedication of the church will not take place until the week of Jan. 23 to 30, with Dr. William H. Foulkes of Newark, N. J., moderator of the general assembly of the church, preaching the dedication sermon on Jan. 30.

Services have been conducted in the Broadway theater during remodeling of the church, which began April 5.

Enclosed in the cornerstone will be a box containing church records, a list of donors to the building, a copy of Sunday's program, pictures of the two former church buildings, and copies of The Journal and other local newspapers.

Services will be held at 9 and 10:45 a. m., the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor, said today.

COMMISSION
WANTS OFFICE

The county planning commission is tired of "playing house" in a residence. It wants to get back into an office.

Shoveled out of the courthouse when army engineers needed quarters for their floor control offices, the commission appealed to supervisors yesterday afternoon for a reshuffle of the deck.

Dr. Walter Bigham, chairman of the commission, asked that the commission be given a chance to move back into the courthouse annex from the building across Birch street to which it was moved.

The board was sympathetic, and promised to think it over.

Coordinator Plan
Gets New Life

The ghost of the coordinating council stirred again today.

Supervisor Harry Riley said he believed the probation committee had a "good man in mind" for about $150 a month to be chief of the council, set up last July but practically dead as the dodo at present.

Riley made the remark in asking for a checkup to see if the council ever had been authorized by a resolution of supervisors.

No action has been taken on the council setup since Presiding Judge H. G. Ames, judge of the juvenile court, was rebuffed by supervisors two months ago on his request for a $3000 yearly salary appropriation so that Dr. Edward Lee Russell, assistant county health officer and psychiatrist, might serve as coordinator.

Supervisors turned the judge down, and no action has been taken since.

Police "Xmas Gift"
Easy to Obtain

Christmas is in the air—and the Santa Ana police department is cooperating with Santa Claus, by passing out presents in the form of parking tickets to unwary motorists.

What was announced as a pre-Christmas drive against overtime parking resulted in a deluge of city court business yesterday. The police promised they would continue their present-giving campaign for at least three weeks, to clear the streets for shoppers.

Two speeding fines were levied by City Judge J. G. Mitchell. Elmer Patterson, Newport Beach, paid $6, and Jack Mitchell, Santa Ana, $8.

Two bicycles—believed to be those belonging to Shallenberger and Sanchez—were found abandoned on Fifth street by Lyman Sargent, street-sweeper.

'Abandoned' Camp
Used by 3900 Boys

A camp isn't abandoned if 3900 youngsters use it during a year, Supervisor Harry Riley found out yesterday.

Riley had heard Scout Executive Harrison White ask the board for help in getting Camp Irvine cleaned up.

"I thought that camp was abandoned," said Riley.

"Where'd you get that idea?" retorted White.

"Why, I was up there a while ago," said Riley, "and I was given to understand that nobody used it any more."

"Humph!" remarked White. "During the last year about 3900 youngsters have used it."

Riley subsided.

RAGS, SCRAPS
MADE INTO
PLAYTHINGSFurniture Repaired
For 2000 on Relief

Old fruit boxes as well as scraps from a sewing project are being made into attractive Christmas toys for Orange county children whose families are on the relief rolls. This is one phase of the toy and furniture project under the supervision of the WPA at North Main and Stewart streets.

Approximately 2000 Orange county families on relief also are enjoying better furnished homes thanks to the work of some 50 men and women at the project who are busily engaged in repairing broken and unpainted furniture from these homes.

The assortment of toys produced from wood boxes brought to the building by the surplus commodities division are numerous, including toy wagons, dogs, bears, ducks, beds, rabbits, automobiles, cradles, chairs, tables, wheelbarrows, dressers, hobby horses and "kiddy car horses."

Thirty men, under the immediate supervision of Archie Barnes a former toy factory employe, are working 120 hours monthly preparing wooden toys for distribution before Christmas. Next door is the doll department where since Sept. 13 there have been produced 2753 cuddle (rag) dolls by 20 women under the supervision of Mrs. Jennie Huntsberger.

A large portion of the material going into these cuddle dolls is cloth scraps from the WPA sewing projects. Even the smallest bits of material can be used for tiny crazy quilts or rag rugs.

The dolls are cleverly designed and possess brightly-colored embroidered eyes, noses and mouths. The toy department is interested in more than merely furnishing playthings to children, aiming to make only those types of toys which are prized by youngsters.

Types of furniture which the project repairs include chairs, tables, dressers and all other varieties of wooden household goods. "You'd be surprised what a bright attitude people in these homes take when their broken furniture is returned to them repaired and painted," one WPA official stated.

The project is a division of the Orange county organization.

A VERY CRUEL FOX
He was strange, wasn't he? Usually foxes like to play with other foxes. But not this one. As Santa said, he had stolen two dolls before he ran off with Helga.

You see, he was the greatest white fox of the North. He could run faster than any other fox. He had sharper, whiter teeth and blacker eyes that could see farther than any other fox. So all the other foxes, and even the bears and the reindeer, feared him and walked the other way when they saw him.

And he was known as such a very cruel white fox that he never got any Christmas gifts. But all this Helga didn't know.

T-I-D-B-I-T-S..

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT
Business women who take early morning trains brought to my attention a gorgeous display of Bird of Paradise flowers, hundreds of them in the old gardens on Marcy Heights, and said they would be at their finest in time for Christmas. I never saw them in such quantities before, except in the Canzone, where everything grows lushly.

Speaking of unusual garden plants, did you ever see a Japanese cabbage? Yes, it's cabbage, and it looks like a large flower, orchid in the center, and every petal as it spreads is edged with fluted green, the diameter about nine inches.

Met Alice Norton Peterson walking with her arm linked in that of nephew Jud Palmer. When I asked where she found nice young men so early in the morning, she said, "I have a lot of nice nephews to spare." Besides Jud, there are the four Norton brothers, Dr. Stanley, Arold, Francis and Miles. The latter is thinking more of the pig-skin than anything else since he plays on the U. S. C. team.

I wonder how many people walked above Fifth street on Broadway Saturday night and saw Mrs. Russell Roth's beautiful windows? They were distinctively Yuletide in motif, and to me the loveliest of the many decorations. One window stressed the spiritual aspect, with a Madonna and child surrounded by Ascension lilies, and angel figurines in front as in adoration. A screen of silver and white flowers was banded behind the arrangement.

The other carried out the secular theme. A sleigh with reindeer, a fat Santa in red, and the vehicle loaded with tiny packages. A tree, with sparkling foliage was there too, the whole a real work of art.

The Stanley Reinhaus family are having happy days over the week-ends in their new Monterey-type beach cottage on Balboa Point. It is furnished in appropriate furniture and with an eye to comfort.

CALUMPT HAS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Succeeding Jean Tantlinger as president of Calumpt auxiliary of United Spanish War Veterans, is Mrs. Luella Randle, who was elected last night to that office.

Also named to the officers' roster were Ruth Hess, senior vice president; Effie Hawley, junior vice president; Maude Brown, chaplain; Katherine Reagan, patriotic instructor; Estelle Dresser, historian; Celia Cook, conductor; Emma King Wassum, assistant conductor; Susan Wine, guard, and Lulu Chatlain, assistant guard.

Also of importance during the meeting was initiation of Mrs. Florence Latimer of Costa Mesa. Plans for a Christmas party and a monthly porkchop supper were also made, with Katherine Haskell, Marie Lindquist, Edna L. Hannah, Effie Hawley, Phoebe Hyatt, Grace Deck and Bessie Fitzpatrick appointed to take charge of the latter. A Christmas tree and party will be participated in by both camp and auxiliary Dec. 14, at 7:30 p. m. at the Knights of Pythias hall.

U. D. C. MEETING
Miss Louise and Miss Gertrude Montgomery will entertain members of the Emma Sanson chapter, U. D. C., in their home, 1418 North Main street, at 2 p. m. Thursday. There will be a Christmas party, a gift exchange, and a program including music and a book review. The meeting has been changed from the Tustin home of Mrs. Clarence Nelson because of an illness in the family.

Won't Stanley, Jr., and Margaret have wonderful sunny days on the sand?

When Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Fred Merker, and Mrs. Walter Hill had finished lunch together on Friday, and walked to the desk to pay their checks, the cashier told them their lunches were paid for. They tried to thank her, but she denied the honor. Three mystified young women walked out. I was there when the husband of one of the ladies paid the bill, but I'll never tell his secret!

Mrs. Ida Conover lived in her own lovely home for many years, but "old man depression" robbed her of both husband and home. Now she is making a brave effort to support herself, and makes lovely crocheted holders to match your kitchen and aprons to match both. Lovely gifts they'll make for any young housewife.

Going into Mrs. William Smart's home at 720 North Main street, I noticed a unique little spinning wheel resting on a very lovely mahogany table, delicate in outline, with two shelves and a satin finish. When I inquired about both pieces, I was informed that the wheel was made by George Kohler of Orange and presented to Miss Marie Foldesi, who makes her home with Mrs. Smart. The little table is over 100 years old, and was owned by Mrs. Smart's mother.

There are several women in this town, who are particularly kind and thoughtful of the lonely ones. At holiday time, places are made for them at the dinner table, or a lovely drive, or a ticket for some pleasant function, whether the recipient be a native of Santa Ana, some student from China, or a seminvalid.

Harriet Whidden, Lorraine French, Lu Ott, Mrs. Elmer Bowser, Mrs. Jeanne Grandy, Mrs. H. J. Howard, Mrs. J. W. McCormac, Mrs. Helen Heil, Ella Nowotny, Nora Flagg, "Jimmie" Zerman are all thoughtful for the happiness of others.

EXCHANGE IS DISCUSSED FOR WOMEN

Although a last minute change in programs was necessary, Business and Professional Women enjoyed a fascinating lecture given Monday evening by Ray M. Taylor, sales supervisor of the Southern California Edison company, and member of the Orange County Builders exchange.

The address was arranged by G. W. Bassett, who is secretary-manager of the exchange. Mr. Taylor indicated in his talk that the exchange represents a cross-section of local industries, offering advice to all who are planning to build. Three aims of the exchange are to raise the standard of building, to maintain business ethics, and to eliminate the undesirable element. He emphasized that the exchange recognizes and does not discourage unions.

A report was given by Miss Vanche Plumb on a recent conference of Women's clubs to send a delegate to the Cause and Cure of War conference in Washington. The club voted to uphold the plan. Members were told of a dinner meeting and Christmas party to be held in the Doris Kathryn Tea shoppe on Dec. 20.

Miss Laura McNaught, president of the B. and P. W., announced to members the county council meeting to be in her home Friday night, Dec. 10, at 7:30 p. m. It will be open to all members, with the Anaheim club furnishing the entertainment.

Ebelles Have Safety Topic Of Woman's Club

Joyous merriment reigned last night at the Ebel clubhouse when Junior Ebelles cast aside the usual formality of monthly programs and enjoyed their annual Christmas party. Members and a few guests filled the colorfully decorated Peacock room when a session of progressive contract.

Mrs. Walter Bacon, hospitality chairman for the year, was in general charge of the affair, which had all the charm of a personal party. Assisting her as chairmen were Mrs. Don Plumb for refreshments, Mrs. Don Harwood for prizes, and Mrs. Bruce Anderson for table decorations.

Likewise assisting were other standing committee members, Mrs. Hans Wahlberg, Mrs. Robert U. Smith, Miss Natalie Neff and Mrs. Thomas Rhone, all of whom aided in preparing the dessert. Helping serve were Miss Gwen Griffin, Miss Ruth Baker, Mrs. Paul Howe, Miss Sada Mae McAulay, Miss Marian Brownridge, Miss Mary Tuthill, Mrs. Russell Sullivan and Miss Patsy Oliphant.

Tables were center with vivid poinsettia blossoms, repeating the color of those in a huge jardiniere on the stage. Especially clever were the little tally-cards, which were fashioned of Christmas wrapping paper to represent miniature packages, tied with real ribbon.

High scorers among the 100 persons present were Mrs. Jack Hanna, Mrs. Fenton Deane and Mrs. Alvin Stiefer, each of whom received a handsome piece of Italian pottery.

DORCAS GROUP ELECTS AT YULE DINNER

Of special interest during the annual Christmas dinner party of the Dorcas society of the First Christian church was election of officers which resulted in the naming of Mrs. H. J. Becker as president, Mrs. Ted Faulkner as vice president, Mrs. Virgil Kiser as secretary, and Mrs. Charles Hill as treasurer.

Outgoing officers are Mrs. Ed Hagthorp, who presided over the affair; Mrs. H. J. Becker, Mrs. J. E. Braden, and Mrs. Louis Williams.

Included in a brief business session was a report on investigations made by Mrs. H. J. Becker and on ways and means by Mrs. D. H. Tibbals. Appointed to a committee for Christmas baskets were Mrs. M. Weisberger, Mrs. Sue Parsons, Mrs. Hazel Bishop, Mrs. H. B. Hill, Mrs. George W. Allison, and Mrs. H. J. Becker.

Enjoyed too was a report on a Christmas playlet produced for the church groups recently, directed by Mrs. Albert Raymond, and enacted by the Homecoming Kenneth League, Nevin Hurd, Ted Faulkner, Larrie Pratt, and Albert Raymond.

Completing the gay affair was a gift exchange and a musical program presented by Mary Jane Steaver at the piano, and Margaret Davies and Betty Jane Ward, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Wetherell.

On the evening's committee were the Mesdames Elva Tibbals, Rose Woodward, Lillian Williams, Mary Rimel, Gladys Sullivan, and Mabel Dunlap.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Young Master Billy Michaels, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Michaels, was the guest of honor Monday afternoon when the merry party in his home, 209 Pine street, celebrated his birthday.

The home was decorated with festoons of blue and white paper from which were hanging bright colored balloons. The table was covered with a white cloth and set with a basket of candy, colored horns, toy balloons, and snappers as favors beside each plate. An enormous white birthday cake with garlands of pink rosebuds and holding four candles centered the table.

Kiddie played a bowling game, a running game, and a donkey game. Shirley Johnson won a big box of candy for high prize, and Buddy Johnson won second prize. Guests of little Billy were Shirley Johnson, May White, Buddy Johnson, Nelson Worth Hall, Jackie Coons, Mrs. Clay White, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coons, sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Michaels.

Gold Star Mothers gathered Monday afternoon in Veterans hall for a social hour covered with luncheon, sewing session, and election of officers, all presided over by Mrs. Martha Elliott, president.

Mrs. Hattie Perkins was selected to head the group at the coming year and will be installed during the January meeting. Other officials include Mrs. Myrtle Stull, first vice-president; Mrs. Melvina Woods, second vice-president; Mrs. Edith Reynolds, secretary; Mrs. Martha Elliott, treasurer; Mrs. Emma Christiansen, chaplain; Mrs. Vanna Morris, color bearer; and Mrs. Mary Croal, sergeant-at-arms. Included among the members present were Edith Reynolds, Ione Sharp, Alice Stull, Susie Kellogg, Hattie Perkins, Mary Croal, Myrtle Stull, Vanna Morris, Melvina Wood, Bessie Windham.

"Stop to think, and you'll think to 'stop,'" was the motto repeated to members of the Santa Ana Woman's club yesterday afternoon when they heard an address by Mrs. Paxton Lytle, state chairman of safety, during their regular fortnightly session in Veterans hall.

Mrs. Lytle explained to the women that California was the first state to have a highway safety chairman, and she reminded them that it was a federated woman's club member who started the movement for white lines in the center of roads. The federated women are now urging all organizations to sponsor a safety week, in order that there be 52 during the year, not just one.

The remainder of the program of the day was postponed because of the enforced absence of Mrs. J. D. Watkins, program chairman. During the business period, reports on the Southern District convention at Long Beach were given by Mrs. L. E. Tarbox, Mrs. F. A. Martin, and Mrs. James G. McCracken.

Mrs. R. A. McMahon conducted the business period during which time announcements were made of the Christmas tree program, and gift exchange of the club scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 21. Joke gifts will be discontinued this year, and practical articles given in their place. The report was also given that the Philanthropy section is planning a Christmas celebration for elderly ladies at the Orange County hospital.

The Evening Social section Christmas party will be postponed until after the holidays, and the Garden section will not meet in December, but will wait until their regular January session. Delegates to tomorrow's county executive board meeting include Mrs. R. A. McMahon, Mrs. L. E. Tarbox, Miss Linda Kroeker, and Mrs. Irving W. Breese.

Guests were seated at round tables with white damask, were prepared in the dining room. Each was centered with a tall white Christmas tree trimmed with silver, and with pretty silver bells. MRS. COFFING HOSTESS AT BRIDGE

Although their group was lessened in size by the absence of Mrs. Fred Forgy and Mrs. Harvey Smith, members of Mrs. L. D. Coffing's bridge group had a very pleasant afternoon yesterday, meeting in her charming North Park boulevard home for luncheon.

Mrs. Richard Emison will entertain the group in a fortnight. Present yesterday were Mrs. Dexter Ball, Mrs. John Ball, Mrs. Herbert Miller, Mrs. Rex Kennedy, Mrs. Hugh J. Lowe, Mrs. Richard Emison, Mrs. J. B. Tucker, Mrs. Horace Stevens, and Mrs. Baxter Jouvenot of Los Angeles.

Mary Stoddard Mail Sounds Like Battle Front Since 'Fred' Criticized Women in Letter

When I open my morning mail these days it sort of reminds me of a battle field! "Peeved" women are marching right up to the front lines to defend their sex against assertions recently made by men readers through these columns.

"Jack" started it all when he wrote that he had talked to hundreds of men whose homes had been broken up by the wives who spent too much of the paycheck on clothes and cosmetics, and when the paycheck stopped, they marched to the divorce courts.

And then just to add insult to injury alone came "Fred" to assert that women "dress like millionaires' wives while their husbands go in rags."

Enter now the ladies: Dear Miss Stoddard: I read "Jack's" letter appearing in your column a week ago. I was mighty peeved at the way he spoke of women and I wish it were true, as he asserted, that a "beauty" shop, cosmetics and a girdle make a queen of any woman these days.

He spoke of the men who were divorced and blamed it all on their ex-wives. I also know a few construction men. Some of them are fine—others, well, a good many came from little boys at home. They weren't away more than two months until they were running around with the girls.

I know some whose wives had to garnish their wages as they were spending it all on other women instead of the little boys at home. They weren't away more than two months until they were running around with the girls.

I could state other instances where men deliberately wrecked happy homes; so you can't always blame it on the women.

Did you ever know a man who would admit that he was to blame when things went wrong? Right now my husband is in a construction camp and I have to live in town so my child can attend school, and the only reason I have peace of mind so far is that there are no women in that particular camp, so I can trust my husband.

Dear Miss Stoddard: Fred's letter surely burned me up. He said that women "dress like millionaires' wives while their husbands go in rags." I wonder if he has ever stopped to think that a lot of men don't try to dress neatly or even care how they look. Most women have always prided themselves on their personal appearance. Most likely the men he saw in "rags" were in this class.

We have a good example of this right in our own home? My dad is careless about his clothes. He could buy a new suit one week and the next week it looks like the very "dickens." The average person cannot afford to get their clothes cleaned every week. Furthermore, my mother doesn't spend more money on her clothes than my dad and yet when they are together they look like a millionaire's wife and the rag man. Sincerely, NINETEEN.

Little Miss Nancy Taylor was guest of honor at a birthday party given by her mother, Mrs. B. E. Taylor of Orange, last Saturday, when a group of her classmates gathered to celebrate her tenth birthday anniversary with her.

Present for the happy affair were the Mesdames Barbara Kennedy, Sallie Fiske, Helen Miller, Marion Armstrong, Helen Armstrong, Julia Armstrong, Barbara Kreuger, Norma Hughes, Marilyn Hughes, Eleanor Brown, Wilma Odom, Elaine Ward, Lavon Gribble, Cordella Kinney, Helen Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, and Nancy Taylor.

VISITOR FETED AT DINNER

Complimenting Mrs. August Elmer of Jasper, Minn., who with Mr. Elmer is houseguest of her brother, William Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. Hofer entertained at a birthday dinner one night this week. The honoree was showered with lovely miscellaneous gifts during the dinner which was held at a table decorated in the holiday theme.

Present for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hofer of Canoga Park, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andres, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilhelm of San Marino, Mr. and Mrs. C. Oesterle, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rowe of Luverne, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blackett of Spirit Lake, Iowa, and Miss Elsie Zelmer of Long Beach.

Musical Tea Given In Anaheim

The gracious hospitality of the beautiful H. A. Johnston home on South Los Angeles street, Anaheim, was extended yesterday to members of the Orange County Medical auxiliary and their guests for a delightful afternoon musical tea.

Members of the auxiliary entertained representatives of various women's clubs throughout the county, as well as their own personal guests. The charming affair, which began at 2:30 p. m., was arranged by Mrs. Hiram Currey, committee chairman.

Dr. Marguerite Baker spoke to the group briefly on the "History of the Christmas Seals," and told of the practical uses for the money raised in that way. A report was made of the funds raised for philanthropic work by the sale of fruit cakes made by Mrs. D. C. Cowles of Fullerton.

Two groups of selections, light opera and Christmas carols, were sung by the championship quartet of the Santa Ana American Legion auxiliary. Singers were Zora Kyla, Josephine Lytke, Zola Maag, and Laverne VanVyk, accompanied by Ruth Armstrong.

Completing the program were cello solos by Miss Anna May Archer, with Miss Audrey Pieper as accompanist, and piano selections by Mrs. Florence Newkirk of Fullerton.

Adjoining to the dining room, the guests found a handsome table, centered with masses of red cottonseed berries, pouring out the table from a shining silver bowl. Surrounding the center arrangements were four silver candlesticks holding red tapers. At either end of the table were seated Mrs. G. W. Olson of Fullerton, president, and Mrs. Harold Gobay, vice president.

In charge of the pretty reception and tea were Mrs. Currey and her assistants, Mrs. John Woods, Mrs. H. C. Newkirk, Mrs. E. W. Kersten, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, Mrs. John Ball, Mrs. K. H. Sutherland, Mrs. Harry Huffman, and Mrs. Kirt Parks.

DR. OLEWILER CO-HOSTESS FOR SHOWER

Dr. Hester Tripp Olewiler was co-hostess with her sister, Mrs. Charles Williams of Long Beach on Saturday in giving a layette shower for another sister, Mrs. Donald Fleming of Hemet in the Olewiler home, 521 West Nineteenth street.

Dr. Olewiler is one of six sisters, and the honor guest resides in the old family home in Hemet, where the entire group is often entertained. Guests at the dainty affair were seated for the 12:30 o'clock luncheon at a table center with pink rosebuds and sweetpeas in a turquoise blue bowl.

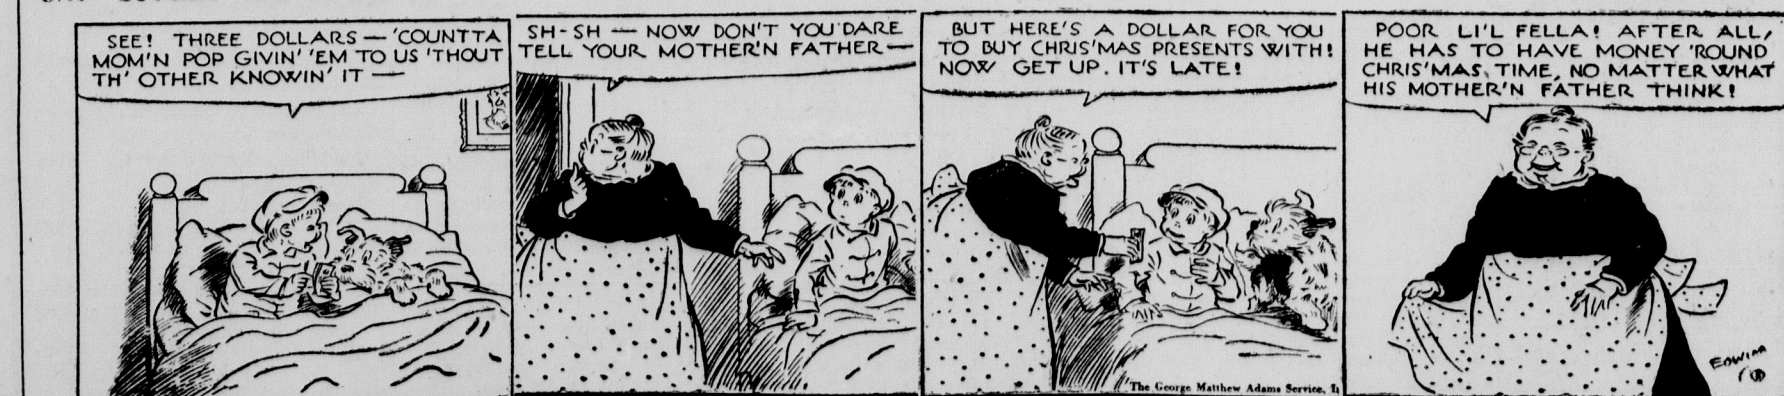

During the afternoon, tiny Donna Olewiler in a quaint turquoise blue frock wheeled in a baby basket over which a stork nodded. It was filled with many lovely articles for the layette.

Guests included Mrs. Carl Elliott of Hemet, Mrs. Roy King of Whittier, Mrs. Edith Bradford of Los Angeles, Mrs. O. W. Ellis of Hemet, Mrs. Carl Ellis and Mrs. S. R. Hemmings of Long Beach, Mrs. Thomas Clark, Mrs. Ernest Macbender, Mrs. Francis Jones and Mrs. Hugh Hougham of Santa Ana.

HE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Uncle Phil - This is Jeff - he used to be caretaker on Carol's estate - now he's a famous picture actor

Howdy, Sir - Patsy told me all about you, and I can't begin to thank you for what you've done for me!

By the way - you don't happen to be the Jeff Gaylord, the one who used to knock 'em dead years ago, as 'Emo' and 'Hamlet'?

None other, son - my name was sweet but fleeting - I went the way of the horse and buggy - a forgotten relic of the sock and buskin -

And just when it seemed I'd spend the rest of my time weeding with old women and tulips, along came Patsy to lift me from the tulip beds to a bed of roses on the silver screen!

That kid is benefactress to more than one has been - his latest liability!
